LONDON EXCITED.

Alarming Reports Indicate Renewal of Anglo-Russian Crisis.

Utmost Activity Prevails At

Gibraltar, Where British Battleships Are Gathering Stripped for Action. Sailing of Russian Squadron Considered a Breach of Agreement.

LONDON, NOV. 1.—LONDON HAS BEEN BEWILDERED ALL DAY LONG BY ALARMING REPORTS INDICATING A RENEWAL OF THE ANGLO-RUSSIAN CRISIS AND SHOWING THAT THE UTMOST ACTIVITY IS PREVAILING AT GIBRALTAR. THE FIRST NEWS RECEIVED, ANNOUNCING THE SAILING OF THE RUSSIAN SQUADRON FROM VIGO, LEAVING ONLY FOUR SUBORDINATE OFFICERS TO

GIVE EVIDENCE AT ST. PETERSBURG AND THEN TESTIFY BEFORE THE INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION, IS CONSIDERED HERE TO BE A BREACH OF THE AGREEMENT AND THE INTERCHANGE OF VIEWS BETWEEN THE AMBASSADORS. COUNT BENKENDORFF AT 1 P. M. WENT TO BUCKINGHAM PALACE AND SPENT NEARLY HALF AN HOUR WITH THE KING. LATER IN THE AFTERNOON THE AMBASSADOR AGAIN VISITED LORD LANSDOWNE, WHO ALSO RECEIVED LORD SELBORNE, FIRST LORD OF THE ADMIRALTY, PREMIER BALFOUR, CAPTAIN PRINCE LOUIS, OF BATTENBERG, THE DIRECTOR OF NAVAL INTELLIGENCE AND SIR JOHN FISHER, SENIOR LORD OF THE ADMIRALTY. ALL THIS RENEWAL OF ACTIVITY CREATED APPREHENSION IN THE PUBLIC MIND AND LATE THIS AFTERNOON THE PRESS ASSOCIATION ISSUED THE FOLLOWING:

"THE PRESS ASSOCIATION HAS REASON TO BELIEVE THAT THE ACTION OF THE RUSSIAN ADMIRAL HAS AGAIN BROUGHT THE RUSSIAN-ANGLO CRISIS DANGEROUSLY CLOSE TO AN ACUTE STAGE. COUNT BENKENDORFF ARRIVED AT THE FOREIGN OFFICE LAST, THIS AFTERNOON TO SEE LORD LANSDOWNE. "MR. BALFOUR WHO HAD ALREADY SEEN THE FIRST LORD OF THE ADMIRALTY EARLIER IN THE DAY, HAS JUST RECEIVED A VISIT FROM LORD SELBORNE, WHO WAS ACCOMPANIED BY ADMIRAL SIR JOHN FISHER."

A DESPATCH TO A NEWS AGENCY FROM ALDERSHOT CAMP SAYS ORDER HAVE BEEN ISSUED FOR STRONG DRAFTS ON ALL BRANCHES OF THE ROYAL ENGINEERS TO BE IN READINESS TO LEAVE FOR GIBRALTAR AT SHORT NOTICE.

London, Nov. 1.—2:20 p. m.—There is no explanation yet of the apparent alarming telegrams from Gibraltar, but at the admiralty the movements of the war ships are said to be in completion of the plans for mobilization, although Gibraltar says the mobilization terminated Sunday. There appears to have been some conflict in the orders issued to the fleets owing to the sudden changes in the diplomatic situation which may possibly account for the fleets movements.

Both at the foreign office and at the Russian embassy it is positively stated that there is no hitch in the negotiations except Russia's failure to notify the British government of the names of the officers detached from the Russian squadron.

Gibraltar, Nov. 1.—2:50 p. m.—Vice Admiral Bosfield's fleet, the battleship Caesar has just fired a gun recalling all the officers of the channel squadron on board their respective ships. All the ships are cleared for action.

British warships strictly patrolled the straits all night long. They intercepted a collier, the London Bridge bound from Harry for Port Said, and brought her in here at noon.

The preparations cause disquiet as the regular mobilization terminated October 30.

All the quick firing batteries have been manned this afternoon and detachments of infantry have been detailed for duty on the commercial and detached moles.

The search light stations are being strictly guarded.

Quiet Night.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—General Sakharoff reports that the night passed quietly.

Received By Edward.

London, Nov. 1.—Count Benkendorff, the Russian Ambassador, was received in audience by King Edward at Buckingham palace this afternoon. It is assumed that the ambassador was the bearer of a message from Emperor Nicholas.

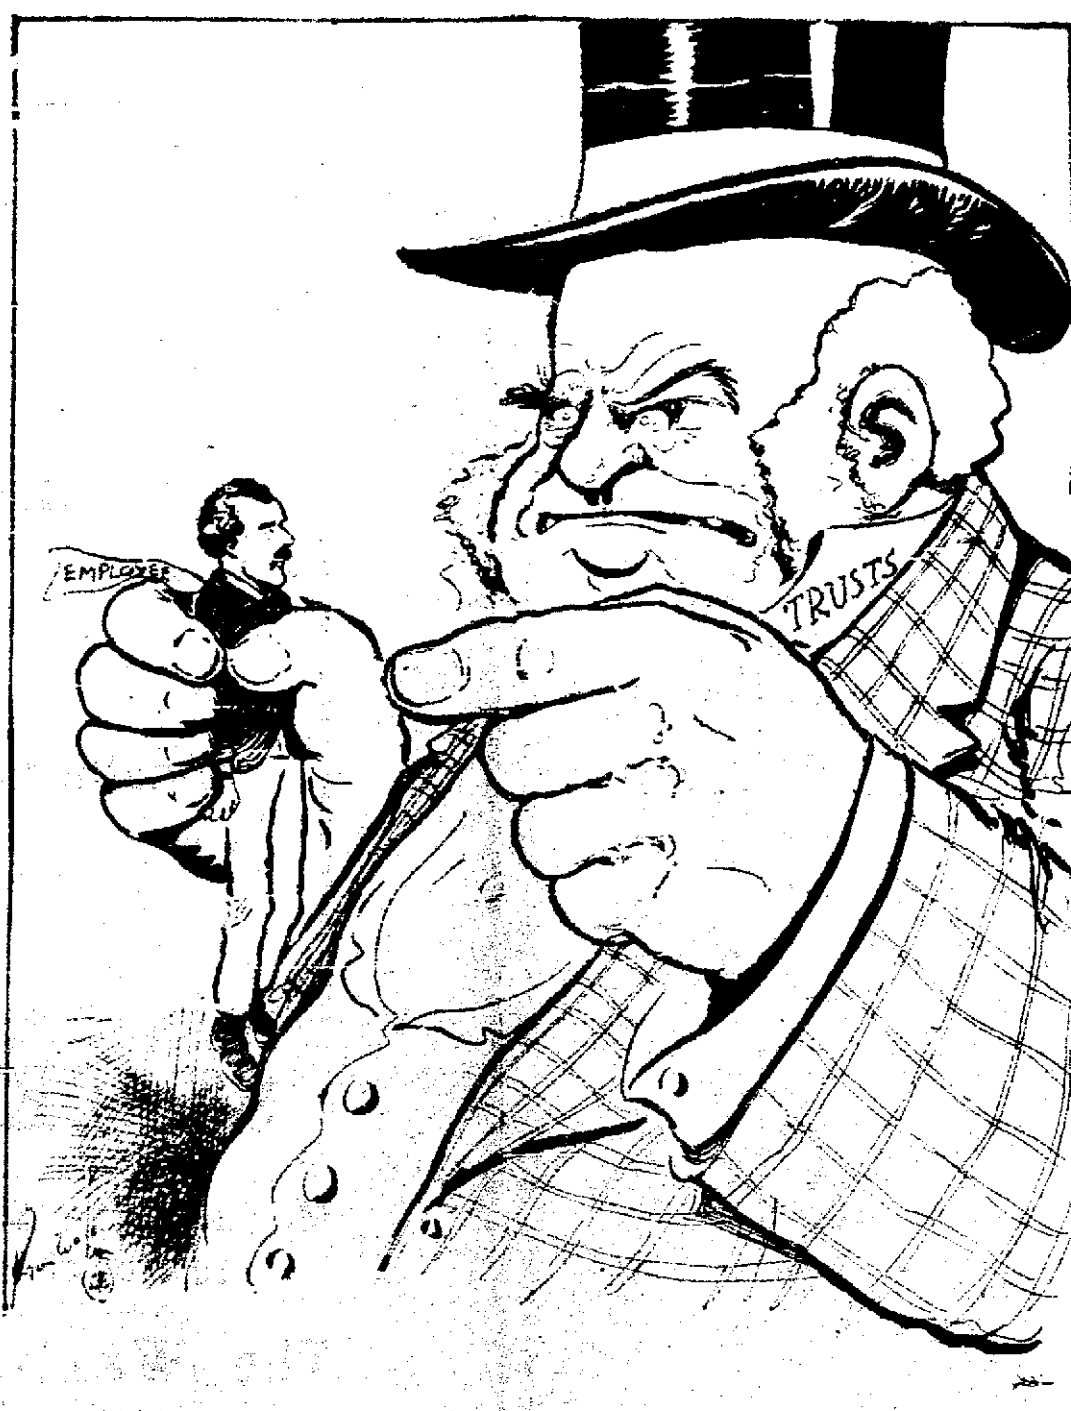

All Sailed Away.

Vigo, Spain, Nov. 1.—All the Russian war ships left here at 8 o'clock this morning.

Gibraltar, Nov. 1.—The garrison has been mobilized and the artillerymen have been ordered to take up their positions at the different batteries of the rock. The channel squadron has been ordered to be in readiness at an hour's notice.

London, Nov. 1.—Up to two o'clock this afternoon, no explanation was obtainable of the sensational dispatches from Gibraltar announcing the mobilization of the garrison there, etc., but they had the effect of starting rumors of a hitch in the negotiations between Great Britain and Russia for a final settlement of the North Sea incident.

Vigo, Spain, Nov. 1.—Heavy firing was heard in the offing this morning. It was attributed to artillery practice.

TRIAL OF PERSONS

Charged With Being Responsible for Anti-Jewish Riots.

Is Arousing Great Interest.

There Are Eleven Defendants, and Sixty-nine Other Persons Who Are Being Held On Bail, Under the Same Charge. Over Thousand Witnesses Summoned.

Gomel, Russia, Nov. 1.—The trial of This is not Kishineff! The police the persons charged with being responsible for the anti-Jewish riots here in September, 1903, is proceeding slowly and with open doors, and is attracting immense interest. There are eleven defendants, and sixty-nine other persons who are under the same charges are being held under bail. Nine hundred and seventy-five of the 1,101 witnesses are present. The government's witnesses are attempting to prove that the disorders of September 11, 1903, were in the nature of anti-Christian riots and not anti-Jews.

It is claimed that the first riot was organized by Jews to take vengeance for the Kishineff affair, while the rioting two days after was a retaliation upon the Jews. The government produced evidence to prove that the Jews were thoroughly organized and armed and had prearranged signals, regular leaders, adopted a provocative attitude towards the Christians and acted overbearing, insulting peasants in the streets and jolting them off the side walks. The affair of September 11, it is added grew out of a trifling quarrel between a Christian forester and a Jewess over the purchase of a herring. The Jewess spat in the forester's face, a fight followed and Jews ran up and belabored the forester. Some Christians from the bazaar hurried to the rescue of the forester. The free fight then became general, the Jewish signal was given and the whole Jewish population assembled, attacking the Christians regardless of sex or age, a girl being dragged along the road by her hair. The peasants abandoned their bazaar and fled. One of them was stabbed in the neck and killed. A police and a lieutenant and four soldiers tried to restore order but stones were showered upon them and they were fired at from windows of neighboring houses, the Jews shouting: "We are going to be avenged!"

The workmen were re-assembling on the outskirts of the town and began pillaging, and a detachment of soldiers was continually engaged in dispersing them, while the Jews elsewhere attacking every Christian they could find. The first volley fired by the soldiers was in the quarter of Gomel known as "America," where two workmen were killed. In all the troops fired three volleys, killing more workmen and one Jew. The total result of the rioting was three non-commissioned officers, two soldiers, two Jews and two Christians killed and four Christians and four Jews wounded. A number of policemen were also killed or wounded. About 250 houses and shops of Jews were pillaged. The rioting continued all the afternoon and only ceased at nightfall.

A WAGE CUT CAUSES STRIKE.

Fifty Thousand Miners in Illinois Are Now in Idleness.

Eight Hundred Hoisting Engineers Quit Because They Would Not Stand For Five and One-half Percent Reduction in Their Agreed Wages.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Specials from Illinois points indicate that less than 100 of the 300 coal mines in Illinois are hoisting coal today as a result of the strike of engineers, which went into effect at midnight. The total number of hoisting engineers who deserted their posts is about 800 and nearly 50,000 miners are thrown out of work as a result. The engineers do not look for an early settlement of the difficulties, which were brought about by the action of the Illinois operators association in cutting the wages of hoisting engineers five and a half per cent. Twelve hundred men are idle at Pana, where all the mines are closed. At Centralia 750 men are out. Hillsboro, Marion, Sandoval, Mascoutah and Springfield mines are closed.

for reckless driving of his machine. The proceedings which were instituted by Wm. G. Deshier, as the result of an accident to his daughter, caused by a horse taking fright at Mr. Chittenden's machine, had been through all the lower courts.

NEWS

From the Seat of War

Says General

Engagement Has Not Yet Begun.

No Japanese Offensive Has So Far Developed Though Advices Are Delayed.

Kaulbars Who Succeeds Kuropatkin in Command Considered a Man of Great Energy.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—5:30 p. m.—According to today's despatches from the seat of war, no general engagement has yet begun. There was some skirmishing yesterday, but nothing serious. No Japanese offensive has developed so far, the official reports show, although advices from the extreme east are delayed.

General Kaulbars, who is to succeed General Kuropatkin, in command of the first army, has arrived here. He passed the entire day closeted with the general staff and with General Alexieff, director of the bureau of operations, studying the details of the campaign in the light of secret despatches and the war office archives. Kaulbars is a striking figure, a tall, stately soldier, with a bronzed face, set off by a white moustache. His sixty years sit lightly upon his vigorous frame. He is considered to be a man of great energy and resource and was commander of a corps during the suppression of the Boxer rebellion in China, but he did not play a conspicuous part, the lions share of the fighting falling on General Linvitch. Kaulbars is Kuropatkin's personal selection.

SHE WILL SETTLE ALL.

Attorneys For Mrs. Chadwick Make a Definite Statement.

Cashier of Wade Park Bank

Said to Have Million in Securities in Possession With Which It Is Expected To Raise Necessary Funds. Suddenly Notorious Woman to Make Statement.

New York, Dec. 1.—The announcement that one of the largest creditors of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, the Cleveland woman whose financial affairs came into prominence in a sensational way a few days ago, had agreed upon a settlement and that his suit would be immediately be withdrawn has given a new phase to this strange case. At the same time the air of mystery which has surrounded every turn thus far made was still present today and there was absolutely nothing beyond conjecture to indicate what the outcome would be. That all the legitimate claims against Mrs. Chadwick will be met, is the statement made by her attorneys, but at the same time they decline to say anything as to the source from which the necessary funds will be obtained.

"Mrs. Chadwick will produce the necessary collateral to meet all just obligations at the proper time. We do not feel called upon to inform the public as to the nature of this collateral or from whence it will come."

This statement in brief covers the attitude of Mrs. Chadwick's legal advisers. Beyond that they have absolutely nothing to say. They would not discuss the value of the securities said to be the possession of Mrs. Chadwick, treasurer of the Wade Park Banking Company, of Cleveland, or in fact any of the individual features of the case.

The settlement of the Newton claim when made, will reduce Mrs. Chadwick's alleged obligation by $190,000. At the same time, however, there remains claims aggregating at least $300,000. That they may reach a greater sum is apparent from a statement made by her attorney yesterday. He had been asked to name the aggregate amount of the claims already filed against Mrs. Chadwick but declined to do so. When asked if they would reach a million dollars he replied: "Well, you place it at that figure. For all I know there may be claims here."

HEARING

For Receivership Was Again Postponed at Attorneys Request.

Chadwick, was called in common pleas court today attorney Carr, of the firm of Carr, Chamberlain and Stearns, representing the plaintiff, requested the court to again postpone the hearing. Judge Babcock granted the request, with the consent of counsel for Mrs. Chadwick, and the hearing was fixed to take place at 9:30 a. m. next Saturday.

The action was taken, it is understood, as a result of negotiations, which will result in the settlement of Mr. Newton's suit out of court.

SEQUEL TO TRAGEDY COSTING THREE LIVES.

Texas Man Who Fired Fatal Shots Falls With Bullet Through His Brain, While Defending Himself Against Posse.

Fort Worth, Texas, Dec. 1.—The sequel to the tragedy that cost the lives of Stephen McKinney, his father and a hired man on their farm, near Alvarado, Tuesday, came today. J. M. Williams who fired the shots, barricaded himself in his home and defied the officers. He sent word to his daughter, the widowed bride of the man he had killed, that if she did not come to him he would kill her. In fear and trembling she went to the house. There she found her father armed with a rifle and in a frenzy of rage. The officers were afraid to fire into the house for fear of killing some member of Williams' family, whom he held prisoners there to shield him.

All night the officers watched from the McKinney home where lay the bodies of the men killed by Williams. Finally Williams seated himself by a window, his rifle across his knees, and becoming drowsy his head dropped on his breast and he slept. Assuredly himself that her father was asleep, the widowed bride stole from the house and fled to the home where her husband's body lay.

As soon as the posse learned Williams was alone they opened fire on the house. He was not slow in returning it. Finally his shots ceased and the sheriff entered the house and found Williams lying on the floor with a bullet through his brain.

The chief surgeon reported an entire absence of small pox among the troops.

The emperor and his party shot 10,042 birds in two days last week on the estate of Count von Töle-Winkel, which were sent to market in Berlin, which city receives almost every day several thousand pheasants besides large game, as a result of the imperial party's forage.

He was surprised while asleep in a rooming house and was unable to reach the weapons concealed in the bed for defense. Despite the threats and display of revolvers by the policemen, Leary struggled until overpowered. Leary recently was released from the penitentiary at Waupun, Wisconsin.

A fast freight train, west bound, running at the rate of 40 miles an hour, crashed into an extra freight which was being run onto a side track. The engine of the fast freight was smashed.

Cars were crumpled up and thrown from the tracks and the three firemen were literally ground to pieces. The engineers and the other trainmen saved themselves by jumping.

IRON

Prices Are Now No Longer

A Pipe Dream.

Development: From Week to Week.

Indicate That Year of 1905 Is to Be One of Great Consumption.

Large Machinery Interests in Pittsburgh Make Big Purchase at an Advance Over the Prices of Last Week.

Cleveland, Dec. 1.—The Iron Trade Review says:

Actual developments from week to week as well as the well-founded expectation that 1905 is to be a year of large consumption of iron and steel in the United States, give a very strong tone to the market. In the past week a further advance in northern pig iron has taken place and bar iron has taken place and bar iron is from $1 to $2 higher, while old material has advanced in all markets.

While the number of pig iron buyers the past week was small compared with that of a month or six weeks ago, they represented in not a few cases large consuming capacity and the size of their purchases at the newly established level indicates how unexpected the upturn was as was the ability of the producers to get the high prices.

Large machinery interests in the Pittsburgh district have bought 12,000 tons at an advance over last week's prices and central western pipe works have taken 20,000 to 30,000 tons, some of this iron being on the basis of $15 at furnace for northern No. 3. Northern furnaces have all put up prices in the week and at $16 now asked for No. 2 central western furnaces, are in some markets on a parity with $18 No. 3 Birmingham. Southern sellers who held for $13.50 are thus fifty cents above the northern price in many localities but are nevertheless holding firm and intimating that their price will be $14 in the near future.

Bessemer pig iron has advanced to $15.25 and $15.50 at central western furnaces, with furnace men less concerned than some months ago, as to the future requirements of the steel corporation. The latter are starting more furnaces this week in addition to last week. Coke prices continue to advance and a factor in the Connellsville market is a long time contract of the Lackawanna Steel Company indicating that no large dependence will be put on its own mines and ovens for many months.

A steel bar meeting will occur early in December and an advance of $2 a ton is a practical certainty. Plates and shapes will come up for consideration before the middle of December and an advance of $2 to $4 was probably be made in both.

Bar iron has advanced $2 a ton further. High scrap made the position of iron rolling mills far from comfortable at the old price for their product.

Among advances expected, which may be effective by the time this review is read, is one of $2 to $4 on wire goods and $2 a ton on wire nails. Any other advance in merchant pipe is also looked for.

COLORADO AFFAIRS GETTING INTO COURT.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—Through the medium of a petition of Michael Dowd, who deposes that he has been illegally deprived of his liberty by the supreme court of Colorado, the election contest of Denver, Colo., was brought before the United States court of appeals here today.

The attorney, Mr. Richardson, of Denver, presented the petition of Mr. Dowd to Judge Walter Sanborne, presiding judge of the court, sitting in chambers, and asked for a writ of habeas corpus for the plaintiff, Dowd. Mr. Richardson claimed that the supreme court of Colorado has exceeded its authority in committing Dowd, and incidentally a number of others, to jail for contempt of court in connection with the election contests. The state of Colorado, through Attorney General Miller, wired Judge Sanborne that it desires to be heard and Judge Sanborne made an order setting December 16th as the day for the hearing of the case on its merits before the court.

REAL MENACE TO THE PEACE

Of World Is Great Britain, Says the Bourse Gazette, Russian Official Organ.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 1.—There is universal commendation of the promptness with which Russia accepted the American arbitration proposal but beyond expressions of satisfaction that it will bind the two countries closer together, the papers indulged in little comment. The only exception is the Bourse Gazette which declares the understanding will dispel the falsehood regarding American-Russian relations.

Russia's victory in the far east, the paper contends, is just as necessary for the United States as for Russia's allies, France and her friend, Germany. Mutual ties between France, the United States and Russia, argues the Gazette will tend to isolate Great Britain, the real breeder of international strife, whose jingo ambitions, the paper declares is the real menace to the peace of the world.

SUICIDE DURING TEMPORARY INSANITY.

London, Dec. 1.—"Suicide during temporary insanity" was the coroner's inquest on Albert R. The evidence of friends showed that Chapman while in Paris showed signs of derangement.

MANY MEN HAVE BEEN

Sacrificed By Japs In Effort to Occupy Metre Hill.

It Is a Dominating Height

From It Mikados Experts Expect to Destroy Port Arthur Fleet Before the Arrival of the Baltic Squadron. Isolated Engagements Along Front.

An OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT COMES FROM TOKIO TODAY THAT THE JAPANESE HAVE OCCUPIED THE SUMMIT OF 203-METRE HILL. THIS IMPORTANT POSITION HAS BEEN THE OBJECT OF SEVERE AND CONTINUOUS FIGHTING AND CABLE REPORTS FROM TIME TO TIME HAVE INDICATED THAT MANY MEN HAVE BEEN SACRIFICED IN THE EFFORT TO CAPTURE IT.

203-METRE HILL IS A DOMINATING HEIGHT IN THE RANGE WHICH LIES TO THE WESTWARD OF THE TOWN OF PORT ARTHUR AND ACCORDING TO REPORTS IT COMMANDS ARTILLERY RANGE OF THE HARBOR AND A PORTION OF THE MAIN TOWN. ITS APPROXIMATE DISTANCE FROM THE CITADEL OR MAIN DEFENSE IS FROM 3 TO 4 MILES.

REPORTS FROM BOTH TOKIO AND ST. PETERSBURG INDICATE THAT ISOLATED ENGAGEMENTS OF A MORE OR LESS SEVERE NATURE ARE OCCURRING ALONG THE FRONT OF THE MANCHURIAN ARMIES BUT IT IS NOT APPARENT THAT THE MAIN FORCES ARE ENGAGED.

Tokio, Dec. 1.—Manchurian Headquarters reports as follows:

"At midnight yesterday a body of the enemy's infantry attacked Manchurian Mountain. Our non-commissioned officers picked them repulsed them.

"Japanese scouts dispatched to Liuchang encountered and repulsed a body of the enemy and succeeded in discharging the duties required of them.

"A Japanese force in the neighborhood of Haienchuang reports that at about two in the afternoon of November 28 a body of the enemy consisting of infantry and cavalry advanced on Siantziatzu heights. We repulsed them at about seven in the evening. The same day at four in the afternoon the enemy's cavalry and artillery attacked Suchialoutzu. Our fire drove them back. "The same day our force caused some losses to the enemy's infantry and cavalry appearing north of Chentzuliu.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 1.—The war office here is not yet prepared to accept the report that the Japanese before Port Arthur have taken 203-Metre Hill, but if it is officially confirmed the war office admits that it will be a desperate blow for the gallant defenders of the fortress. The position commands the harbor and if the Japanese can mount siege-guns on its summit they can force out the Russian squadron or destroy it at its anchorage. Those familiar with the supporting plans of the forts think it is by no means certain that even though the Russians are forced to retire from 203-Metre Hill the Japanese can place in position heavy guns against the fire which the other forts can bring to bear on it. Still the war office officials reluctantly agree that such a breach in the chain renders the position extremely critical and though the position might be able to hold out in the Golden Hill, Tigers Tail and Liachie forts for some time it may mark the beginning of the end.

The war office is convinced that with the approach of the second Pacific squadron the Japanese considered that the elimination of the Port Arthur squadron as a fighting factor was absolutely vital, accounting for the reckless sacrifice of life in order to gain a position directly commanding the harbor.

INAUGURATION OF GEN. PARIFIO DIAZ

As President of Republic of Mexico for the Seventh Time Took Place Today With Splendor and Pomp.

City of Mexico, Dec. 1.—The inauguration of General Porfirio Diaz, as president of the Republic of Mexico for the seventh time and of Senor Don Ramon Corral as first vice president, took place today in the hall of the chamber of deputies under most auspicious circumstances.

Preparations for the inauguration have been going on ever since the election June 7th last, but have actively extended over a period of about a fortnight, beginning with the grand ball given in honor of President and Madame Diaz, November 20th, which was attended by the Mexican and Spanish aristocracy of the capital.

The principal streets and edifices and residences were decorated profusely with arches and national flags, freely interspersed with the flags of foreign nations. The pageant was made up of thousands of federal troops, the reserves, bands, societies, political organizations and many prominent political personages, including the governors of the states comprised in the union.

DETECTIVE

Fenstermaker Ordered Suspended From Duty.

Charges Made That a Raid Planned on Gambling Room Was "Tipped Off."

At a meeting of the board of public safety, held in the office of Mayor Robb, last night, an order was issued to Chief of Police Mills for the suspension from duty of detective Charles Fenstermaker, pending an investigation of some serious charges that had reached the ears of both the mayor and members of the board. The story that has been given to the mayor and members of the board of safety is that a member of the police force reported that gambling was going on in the rooms above the Oak restaurant one night some time ago. The officer who made the report was ordered to visit the gambling rooms and it is alleged that he called upon Detective Fenstermaker to accompany him. He left the latter, it is claimed, in front of the Oak and went to summon another officer and upon his return found the gambling room empty and no games in progress.

The time for a hearing of the case has not been determined upon.

FRANCIS HONORED.

With Ideal Weather World's Fair Held Forth Its Last Day.

The Day Being a Holiday in St. Louis and Throughout the State of Missouri. President of Exposition Make Short Address to the Assembled Multitude.

St. Louis, Dec. 1.—With ideal early winter weather prevailing; with the gates thrown open to children and to those who had been unable to attend for pecuniary reasons, with crowds pouring from the turn-tiles, from the opening of the gate until far into the day, the Louisiana Purchase Exposition held forth its last day today. President Francis was the guest of honor today and ceremonies were conducted commemorating the services he has rendered in making the exposition a success and at the same time bidding farewell to the world's fair, the magnitude and greatness of which have been heralded and acknowledged throughout the entire world.

It is estimated that the attendance today was in the neighborhood of a record breaker, but it will not be known until the exposition has closed, and the attendance figures officially announced. The attendance for the previous weeks had been announced every Sunday night since the beginning and the announcement last Sunday night showed that 18,317,457 admissions have been recorded since the exposition opened on April 30.

The banner months attendance was in September when the total was 3,651,873. The largest single day's attendance was September 15, when "St. Louis day" was observed.

That every citizen of St. Louis might participate in the last day of the exposition and help observe "Francis Day" today was proclaimed a holiday by Mayor Wells. Governor Dockery has proclaimed throughout the state that today was especially set aside for paying final homage to the exposition and the crowd that poured in to the city on the early trains attested the fact that the proclamation was observed. A large number of business houses ceased operations today and the public schools were closed. Additional forces of officers and guards were stationed over the exposition grounds to preserve order in handling the crowds but every visitor was bent on having a last good time and there was little need of guards except for giving directions and looking after the comfort of the visitors generally.

About the time the crowds were beginning to pour into the grounds a special trolley car left the residence of President Francis conveying him to the administration building. Mayor Wells and the exposition committee on ceremonies acted as escort.

After a brief reception in President Francis' office where the officials of the exposition management greeted him he was escorted by the world's fair directors, all the officials and employees of the exposition company and a detail of fifty Jefferson guards to the Plaza of St. Louis. The procession was headed by a militia escort composed of all the military organizations on the grounds.

The procession was headed by a military escort composed of all the military organizations on the ground and the regular soldiers stationed at Jefferson barracks and other military organizations of St. Louis. General E. M. Rice acted as marshal of the day.

When the Plaza of St. Louis was reached President Francis took his place on the north side of the Louisiana Purchase monument, to deliver his address in the exact place where he held the opening exercises.

The board of lady managers, the members of foreign and state commissions and other notable guests occupied the immediate vicinity of the speaker's stand and stretching away into the distance on all sides was a sea of faces of those who came simply to be in attendance upon the closing exercises of the exposition.

The assemblage was called to order by Mayor Wells. Rev. Dr. S. J. Nicolls, of the second Presbyterian church, of St. Louis, invoked divine blessing. Brief addresses were made by Governor Dockery and Mayor Wells in behalf of the city of St. Louis.

President Francis was introduced and delivered his farewell address. As he arose and stepped to the front a cheer went up from the assembled thousands. President Francis did not make an extended address, but told of the exposition as a monument to the industry of the world, as a universal institution of instruction and a patriotic success. When he had ceased speaking the large crowd again burst in cheers and then dispersed to see for the last time the wonders of the exposition. Drills and concerts throughout the grounds occupied the latter part of the day.

THE EAGLE AND THE ROOSTER.

(Columbus Chapter.) A local contemporary points, probably as an "editorial gem," an abstract of a speech delivered by Hon. Emmet Tompkins before the Herrick Club during the recent campaign. Mr. Tompkins extolled the American eagle in words almost as lofty as the flight of the bird, and presented the American rooster in language equally picturesque. The rooster, he said, was only "a dunghill chattering," while the eagle was "the glorious bird whose breast beats the thunder-cloud, whose eye looks into the sun's blazing face and never falters, whose pinions rustle above the mountain top," etc., etc. Then, we presume, the boy "holloered like Indians" and felt almost as good as Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. Tompkins is recognized hereabout as an orator of eloquence and persuasive powers. Sometimes, however, it is a good plan for an orator to know what he is talking about, as well as to know how to say what he intends to say. On the occasion mentioned Mr. Tompkins knew how to say what he intended to say but he didn't know what he was talking about.

What is the truth about the eagle? In the first place, the eagle is a natural-born coward. The accepted theories about his fighting qualities are all bosh. Except when starving or pushed for his life he will never fight. He never attacks anything but his size, and when he can't find any small prey he will eat carrion. Mr. Tompkins may not know it, but students of natural history have demonstrated that when a barn-yard game cock—the "dunghill chattering" of the orator—is put into a cage with an eagle he will "lick" the eagle in about the same time it would take the Hon. Jim Jeffries to dispose of the Hon. Emmet Tompkins.

The eagle is also a glutton. He will stuff himself on live or dead meat, according to which is most available until he unites himself to eat again for days at a time. With the exception of one variety the eagle is also a foul bird. He has no care to his toilet, as the rooster has, and smells bad generally. He is also a common thief; robbery is his business. He is also a hen-pecked husband. The female invariably persecutes the male, and when caged and food is given them, she attempts to starve him to death, and gorge herself by spreading her wings over the hands placed before them, devouring all in reach when not snapping at her "lord and master."

Compare this with the noble rooster scratching away for the hens and chicks, calling them to the banquet and then standing proudly by while they eat! But for the eagle family it may be said that if the wife abuses the husband it is because he deserves it.

John James Auburn, the greatest American ornithologist, quotes Benjamin Franklin as lamenting the selection of the eagle as the emblem of the United States on account of its cowardice, tyranny and general ill condition. Franklin was a student of nature. The truth is that prior to Franklin's time, the nations which had selected the eagle as their emblem were invariably rubber nations, existing on robbery after the manner of their patron bird.

We have no space here to extol the virtues, the bravery, the industry, the devotion and the usefulness of the rooster; nor is it necessary, whether he perches on the banners of Democracy or scratches away to provide ungrateful Republicans with food. But we insist that he shall not be abused in eulogy of the despicable eagle, and so insisting, we assert that Mr. Tompkins owes an apology to the king of the barnyard and owes to his own intelligence a retraction of his praise of the robber of the air.

Changed the Subject.

"Yes" said he, "life is so lonely." "It is lonely sometimes," she answered, in her most affectionate tones. "Wouldn't it be sweet to have a little cottage with all the front covered with ivy and honeysuckle and roses?"

"Oh, wouldn't it?"

"And when a fellow comes home tired from business to have a nice little wife to meet him at the door with a kiss?"

"Yes—yes!"

At this point a careworn woman came round the corner wheeling a wheelbarrow. A dead silence fell upon the air. Then they changed the subject.—The Pilgrim.

SHOCKING NEWS.

A member of the faculty of the University of Chicago tells of the sad case of a young woman from Indiana who was desirous of attaining social prominence in Chicago.

Soon after her arrival there she made the acquaintance of a student at the university to whom she took a great fancy. Evidently it was at this time that she realized for the first time her early education had been neglected, for she said to a friend:

"I suppose that as he is a college man, I'll have to be awful careful what I say. What if I talk about to him?"

The friend suggested history as a safe topic. To her friend's astonishment, she took the advice seriously, and shortly commenced in earnest to "come up" in English history.

When the young man called the girl listened for some time with ill-concealed impatience to his talk of football, outdoor sports, dances, etc., but finally she decided to take the matter in her own hands. She had not done all that reading for nothing, so a pause in the conversation affording the desired opportunity she suddenly exclaimed, with considerable vivacity:

"Wasn't I awful about Mary, Queen of Scots?"

"Why, what's the matter?" stammered the student, confused.

"My gracious!" almost yelled the girl from Indiana, "didn't you know?"

"Why the poor thing had her head cut off!"—Harper's Weekly.

A TRIBUTE TO "DAD."

We happened in a house the other day and over the parlor door saw the legend in letters of red, "What is Home Without a Mother?" Across the room was another brief, "God Bless Our Home." Now what's the matter with "God Bless Our Dad?"

He gets up early, lights the fire, and wipes the dew off the lawn with his boots while many a mother is sleeping. He makes the weekly hand-out for the butcher, the grocer, the milkman and the baker. He stands off the ball and keeps the rent up. If there is a noise during the night, dad is made to go down stairs and find the burglar and kill him. Mother darts the socks, but dad bought the socks and the yarn afterward. Mother does up the fruit; well, dad bought it and the jars, and sugar cost a lot.

"What is Home Without a Mother?" Yes that is all right, but what is home without a father? Ten chances to one it is a boarding house, father is buried and the landlady is a widow. Dad here's to you, you've got your father—your mother has lots of them—but you're all right and we'll miss you when you are gone.—Exchange.

LIMITED APOLOGY.

In a certain town of western Massachusetts, two of the most prominent citizens are a Methodist brother and a Presbyterian brother. These are neighbors, and for the most part dwell on good terms, except when they try to effect an exchange of horses or to talk religion.

On one occasion the two had traded horses, and although this outcome rankled in the breast of the Methodist, they had met and started a discussion on the subject of predestination. As usual, an altercation ensued, when the Methodist lost control of himself. With mixed emotions concerning horse trades and John Calvin in his mind he suddenly exclaimed:

"You're a robber, a liar and a Presbyterian!"

This proved too much for the Presbyterian, and a fight began, in which the Presbyterian got the best of it. As he sat upon his prostrate opponent bumping his head against the ground, he said:

"Take it back, take it back, or I'll bump your foolish head off!"

"I'll take it back," snapped the vanquished Methodist, "on the first two counts; you're not a robber nor a liar but you're a blundered old Presbyterian if I do for it."—Harper's Weekly.

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS.

Chicago Tribune.—When a foreign nobleman like Count Cini of Rome, grandnephew of the late Pope Leo, comes to this country and proposes to marry an heiress like Miss Elizabeth Howe of Pittsburg, it is satisfactory terms can be arranged, the matter should be viewed in the right light. It is business with the count; it should be business with the heiress.

The original price which the count set upon his hand was $70,000 cash down and a guarantee of $15,000 a year for the rest of his life. He explained that the first named sum was necessary to settle his outstanding obligations, so that he might marry in a manner befitting the honor of a gentleman of his rank. The heiress, while admitting that she was in the market for the class of goods the count offered, considered the price out of proportion to current values. She had done some shopping and was supposed to know how much bric-a-brac and objects de vertu were worth. She made an offer of $50,000, money in the bank, and a $10,000 annuity.

Like many a tradesman engaged in much smaller transactions, the count was insincere. He rejected the offer with fine indignation, turned on his heel, and let her to look elsewhere for goods more nearly suited to her purse.

But the price scorned today is often eagerly sought tomorrow, and the count finally came to the terms of the original offer. The count will probably be able to shave his creditors down to 75 cents on the dollar and make the $50,000 do the work of $70,000. Miss Howe is to be commended for her Yankee shrewdness, and other American heiresses should imitate her example. A dollar saved is a dollar earned, and business is business.

SOME

Of the Burdens Added
To the People
By the Acts of the Last Legislature

Which Tax Payers Should Not Lose Sight of on Election Day.

These Are Only Side Issues. Volumes Would Be Required To Present Them All in Their True Light.

Columbus, Nov. 1.—The Republican Sixty-sixth General Assembly of Ohio was guilty of many acts of notorious extravagance, if not of corruption, like the abolition of spring elections, the doubling of legislative salaries and other big steals too numerous to mention. It was also responsible, however for some less conspicuous legislative offenses which the taxpayers may lose sight of while contemplating the greater outrages perpetrated by this record-breaking legislature. It may be well therefore to cite some of the less conspicuous errors of judgment of the assembly committed by the republican majority and vigorously opposed by the democratic minority in both houses.

"Take, for instance, the act amending Section 3641C of the Revised Statutes. This is the act requiring all officials in the state of every class who are required to give bond to give a surety company as such bondsman, the only exceptions being the commissioners of insurance and no-taries public. The premiums paid for such bonds are to be paid out of the general funds of the division of the government for which such person was appointed or elected. This will cost Ohio taxpayers approximately $400,000 provided the rate of one-half of one per cent is charged in all cases. This vast sum represents a tribute levied upon the people for the sole benefit of the bonding companies, which were the only interest demanding this preposterous legislation.

Then there is the amendment of Section 45, increasing the salaries of circuit judges to $6,000 per annum.
This will cost the taxpayers of Ohio $18,000 per year over and above the previous expense of the circuit courts;
and yet there never was a time in Ohio when able men were not to be found willing to accept the honors of the circuit bench.

Then there is the act amending Section 7388A, authorizing sheriffs in every county to appoint not more than three jail matrons, at a salary not to exceed $60 per month. There are 88 counties in the state and this act can be so taken advantage of as to create an army of 264 matrons.
At $60 per month their salaries might aggregate $15,440 per month or $180, 000 per year—all coming out of the taxpayers. If unexpected conservatism in the appointment of matrons should prevail, the act could hardly cost the taxpayers less than $30,000 a year; but the enormous possibilities of this grant are apparent.

These are only "side issues" of the late republican legislature, and it would take volumes to present the whole number in their true light. A vote for democratic state and county officers in Ohio is a vote to revoke this kind of robbery, especially when most by a republican and, judging from reports received here by both state committees thousands of republicans and all democrats will so vote.

The Regular.
Philadelphia, Nov. 1.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania road today the regular semi-annual dividend of three per cent was declared.

Recovered His Grip.
A grip was recovered at the Pennsylvania baggage office night before last, which is presumed to have been stolen from a hotel in Fort Wayne.

The conductor of the train probably saw the thief a warning when he went through the car in an effort to find the party who held a duplicate check, and the grip was not called for it was the property of F. W. Lord, a travelling salesman, and was turned over to him by night baggage master Cook.

Along All Lines.
With the retirement of George Graves as superintendent of the western division of the C. H. & D. line,
the last of the men appointed by M.
D. Woodford, president of the C.
H. & D., goes.

Hon. R. D. Marshall of Dayton
general counsel for the C. H. & D.
Railway company, Saturday severed his connection with that company and will leave within a short time for the south where he hopes to recuperate his failing strength. Mr.
Marshall has been associated with the C. H. & D. for many years.

While it is true, said Mr. Leonard, and that the Pennsylvania system
has a large interest in the Toledo, Peoria and Western, my resignation does not mean that the road is to be absorbed by the latter line. The present officers will remain in charge of the road.

Mr. Leonard will not resign in business.

A Pittsburgh paper says that all of the Pennsylvania shops have more work than they can handle in the way of locomotive repairs and that locomotives needing general repairs were sent to the Baldwin shops at Philadelphia. This condition was brought about by the overhauls of the summer months when only enough work to fill demands of light traffic was done in the repair shops.
The sudden revival of business makes a demand for power which it is impossible to supply.

EARLY MARRIAGES.

Lots of Young Wedded Couples Don't Starve to Death.

We are used to look grave when a young man takes a wife into himself with what seems to us to be undue precipitation, and if presently we see a young family growing punctually up around him maybe we wag our heads
a bit and say it was a pity that young Buxton did not wait until he had got a round or two farther up the ladder.
We say we don't like to see a likely young fellow overhauled at the start, and we know of men of promise who incurred domestic blessings so early in life and in such numbers that all their lives they never did better than to stagger on under their load.
We say they never had a chance to get where they belonged, and we fear it is going to be so with that young Buxton.

But if Buxton has got his start and seems to be the right sort and if that demure young Lucy seems to have some hard sense and due constancy in whatever she disposes under her ribbons and muslins, let us not crack windy nor forecast a lot of heavy troubles that are not actually in sight. Keeping body and soul together is not quite so desperately complicated a task as some of us have grown to think of. Lots of people don't starve to death—Metropoli-titan Magazine.

A YARD OF BEER.

Once a Peculiar Feature of Business in Little English Inns.

The "yard of beer" which was once so peculiar a feature of the business done at the little inns of Buxley and Uthman, England, is now but little known, if indeed not altogether obsolete. It was served in a glass vessel exactly three feet in length, with a very narrow neck, slightly flared at the mouth, and with a globular bowl
at the bottom.

This vessel being filled with beer, any one could have the liquor free if he could drink it without spilling a drop.
If he failed he would have to pay double. The feat looked easy, but it was difficult, if not impossible, for a novice to perform.

VACARIOUS PUNISHMENT.

Royal Children were at One Time
Whipped by Proxy.

Royal children were at one time whipped by proxy. Edward VI. had a proxy of the name of Barnaby Fitzpatrick, and if his back smarted from the blows which should have fallen upon the young prince he had his reward in the favor shown to him when Edward became king. He is introduced in an old play under the name of Brown and played a knightly part in his complaining to the prince of his victim's sufferings.

William Murray, father of the Duke of Leeds, was whipping boy for Charles I. Henry IV. of France had two boys to bear his chastise-ments. James VI. of Scotland's whipping boy was Mungo Malgrounthorn, an account of whom and of the custom is given in Sir Walter Scott's "Fortunes of Nigel." In 1878 a whipping boy was provided for the emperor of China. Le Sage, in "Gil Blas," relates how Don Raphael, entering constantly dogged for the son of the Marquis de Lagunas ran away, taking with him 150 threats as compensation.

Making a Cigar.

Contrary to the general opinion, a good cigar is not formed entirely of tobacco derived from the same plantation. It is the most delicate task of the manufacturer to determine the mixture of tobaccos of different growth, generally three or four that are to enter into the composition of his cigars. As with the wine merchant, this art of sorting demands on the part of the manufacturer a perfect knowledge of the qualities of the raw material and a delicacy of taste that is not at all common. Tobacco Journal.

Long Lived Pear Trees.

The pear tree will continue bearing fruit for several centuries. Trees bearing fruit in abundance when at least 200 years old are not uncommon.
They are much longer lived than the apple which rarely lasts more than 100 or 150 years. The pear tree also grows much larger than the apple and when 200 years old has often the dimensions of a forest tree.

At Gibraltar.

Newsboy's Cried Extras

Under News Market Dropped Back To Fall Point Below Last Night's Close, With Free Offerings
In All Quarters.

New York, Nov. 1.—The stock market was slow to take notice today of the war like preparations making at Gibraltar. The holiday in London and the lack of initiative from that quarter probably accounted for the delayed influence of the episode in Wall street. Newsboys had been crying extras containing the report for some time before prices were appreciably affected in the stock market. The early course of the market was upwards in recovery from yesterday's sharp drop and some substantial gains had been established which held into the second hour.
The market then dropped slowly back to last night's level and then starting a more precipitate decline and by the early afternoon the range of prices had fallen from 1 to 2 1/2 points below
last night's level. Offerings of stocks were free in all quarters of the list.

New York, Nov. 1.—The opening dealings in stocks today were quiet and the irregular changes were unusually narrow. Amalgamated Copper rose a point on the purchase of 2000 shares, and then reacted a half.
Reading gained 1/4 and Rock Island declined 1/4 while St. Paul fell a half.
A steady but aggressive rally in prices on moderate buying wiped out all but small fractions of the general losses. Amalgamated Copper was carried 3 over last night, U. S. Steel preferred 1-1/8; Sugar 1/4; Metropolitan Street Railway 1/4; and some others small fractions. The closing was active and strong.

PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE IT.
Many broad minded physicians prescribe Foley's Honey and Tar, as they have never found so safe and effective a remedy for throat and lung trouble as this great medicine. There

lar. Contains no opiates or poisons and never fails to cure coughs and colds. Refuse substitutes. H. F.

"Ah!" the lady pathetically replied,
"you should have seen me yesterday!"

PRANKS

Of Evil Spirits Did But Very Little Damage

Over in the South Part of the City.

Baptist and Grace Churches Will Honor Their Pastors.

Limaites Visit Elida and Hold a Halloween Social. Menu of News Items Very Brief.

Although there were many supposed demons of devilment, several of whom wore masks, abroad last evening, yet south Lima did not suffer to any great extent. Of course there were a few gates removed, signs hidden, and door bells rung, but nothing of a very serious nature has as yet been reported—unless you wish to call the theft of "Paddy" Holleran's cow a serious affair. Somebody is creaming their coffee at Holleran's expense, or was; at least her ladyship, the meadow queen, was among the missing this morning.

Gilmore's new paint sign was carried off. It was nailed to the front end of the store, and although small, was valued at $15. Mr. Gilmore will prosecute somebody for theft if the sign is not replaced.

Harry Zuremlich would like to have just one tiny feather to wear in his hat, from the tail of his pet chicken that was stolen.

A crowd of mischievous maidens were roughly handled on west Vine street by boys who lacked true manliness, and arrests may follow. The boys claim as an excuse that they thought the "demons" were boys.

Several amusing things transpired this morning. One instance was an old gentleman knocking because someone had stolen his gate and an old buggy, when the neighbors know that his own son added in the transfer.

It is to be hoped that "his nibs" of evil intent will "go way back and sit down" and doze off into a slumber of at least one year's duration, now that he has had his fun.

Baptists Will Entertain.

This evening, the members of the south Lima Baptist church will hold a reception and give an entertainment in honor of their pastor, Rev. C. M. Rupe, and bride. An invitation has been extended to the First Baptist church, as well as to all friends of the south side church, to attend.

Another Reception.

Grace church, assisted by members of Trinity, Epworth and the Second street Methodist churches, will tender a reception to Pastor T. L. Whitte and wife this evening at the church on west Kibby street, and plenty of amusement has been arranged.

At It Again.

This morning at 7 o'clock a false alarm was sent in from box 53, at the corner of Kibby and Metcal street, and enroute the department came near having a serious mix-up. A driver of a large heavy coal wagon was told to stop and not attempt to cross Kibby, but he "guessed he knew his business."

Without jesting, there are a few tramsters and delivery "boys" in Lima that should be placed in a kindergarten and taught a few things as to right-of-way and which side of the street to drive on. In other cities when a driver takes the wrong side of the street, and an officer sees him, he is shown his place and told to keep it.

Halloweened At Elida.

Last evening, Mrs. Dan Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Kepner chaperoned a jolly party to Elida, to celebrate Halloween. The party assembled at the Bressler home, and besides other enjoyable features, partook of a bounteous supper. In the party were the Misses Ada Powers, Anna Kepner, Laura Wagoner, Cora Kepner and Maie Baker and Messrs. Robert White, Alfred Ruthe, Mat. Koer, Chas. Cleveland and Lloyd Van Pelt.

Found Old Home in Ashes.

Last Saturday Lee Robbins of south

Main street, and sister, Mrs. Olive Bowersock, of Reece avenue, went to Ohio City to spend Sunday with their father. When they neared the old home, they were astounded to find nothing but a pile of ashes where the house had once stood. The house had burned down a day or so before, and the aged and invalid father, fortunately, had been rescued and removed to a nearby house. The Robbins' had lived on the home farm for about fifty years.

Personal Briefs.

Frank Ricketts, of south West street, has revived from his sudden illness of yesterday, and was able to get down to the store this afternoon.

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows held a district meeting at Solar hall last evening, and transacted important business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Calvert, of south Elizabeth street, are entertaining his mother, Mrs. Calvert, of Alger.

A Mr. Johnson, of Forest, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Boyers, of south Pine street.

J. W. Hess, the shoe cobbler, has returned to his first love the little room on west Vine street, in the rear of the Setter building. He has been located on east Kibby street for several weeks.

Friends of Miss Leann Saunders will be pleased to learn that she is improving from an attack of rheumatism, and it is thought will be able to resume her school in a few weeks.

Miss Maud Herrington, of Reece avenue, is again on the sick list.

After enjoying a visit with his old-time chum, J. M. Hutchinson, of south West street, Joan Duppeller has returned to North Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hawkins, of Milburn avenue, have a brand new boy's juggle and sing to.

Mrs. Joseph Sanders, of south Pine street, is reported quite feeble.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wooley came in over the Erie from Huntington, Ind., this morning and will be the guests of south side relatives a day or so.

Yesterday south Lima friends entertained Mrs. Eugene Vale and Mr. T. Turner of Columbus Grove.

This morning an instrument much resembling a "jimmy" was found on the porch in front of the Orider & Heall grocery, on east Kibby street. Whether a robbery was intended, or just childish pranks of "evil spirits" is to be surmised.

RECOGNITION AND RENEWAL OF TEACHERS' CERTIFICATES.

The following statements received at this office from Edmund A. Jones, state school commissioner, we deem worthy of publication because of the numerous inquiries received on this subject.

1. Recognition of all certificates issued prior to September 1st, 1904, is at the discretion of the examining boards.

2. Certificates requiring recognition are those issued prior to September 1st, 1904, and expiring at a date subsequent to September 1st, 1905. To entitle the holder of such certificate to its recognition it is necessary that he take an examination in literature prior to September 1st, 1905.

3. Certificates which were issued prior to September 1st, 1904, for a shorter period than five years and which expire before September 1st, 1905, do not need recognition and are not renewable.

4. Certificates valid for two years are not renewable unless they be provisional certificates issued subsequent to September 1st, 1904.

5. Provisional certificates valid for three years are entitled to the same consideration given to provisional certificates valid for two years.

6. Certificates issued after September 1st, 1904, are of two general classes, provisional certificates and professional certificates. 8. No special certificate shall be issued by county boards of examiners except for the branches mentioned in Section 4074.

9. Common school life certificates are valid and sufficient for elementary school teachers. They are valid for high school teachers for all the branches they cover but examination in branches necessary to a high school certificate and not contained in the common school life certificate, will be required.

10. By the provisions of Section 4078 city boards of examiners are authorized to require examination in additional branches at the request of the superintendents of city schools and on information concerning such branches presented by him.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier New Zealand Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Los Angeles, Iowa.

The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had, and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

TO THE POINT.

The late General Russell Hastings served with distinction in the civil war, and his war time reminiscences were amusing.

He was describing one day a time when the soldiers' pay had been in arrears.

"A young Westerner, full of braggadochio," he said, "walked up to his captain during the temporary trouble, saluted, and said sternly—

"Three words with you, Cap."

"Well, said the captain 'what are they?'

"Money or discharge."

"The captain smiled grimly.

"Four with you," he said.

"Well?"

"Neither one nor t'other,"—(The Tribune)

SHAWNEE ITEMS.

Quarterly meeting services at Shawnee Chapel Sunday afternoon were well attended.

Seth Adgate and Clint Strawbridge returned Friday evening from a two weeks' trip at St. Louis.

Mike Zimmerman is drilling a well on the David E. Hoyer farm at Snider's Crossing. The well will be a test for the Amos Salder, F. E. Cider, Ira Chum and Hoyer farms and will be watched with much interest.

Miss Maggie Mayer, who has been ill with typhoid fever for several weeks, is improving nicely.

Arden Zuremlich, Clint Strawbridge and Seth Adgate spent Sunday with Meri La Croix, of Lima.

Charley Schurz is pumping near Beaver Dam.

Bert Umbaugh and wife, of Cridersville spent Sunday with the latter's father, J. A. Umbaugh and family.

The new bridge on the Breese-York road has been completed and the road opened for travel.

Frank Phillips and family spent Sunday with relatives at South Warsaw.

The Shawnee Debating Society will be reorganized at the Raymond school house Friday evening, November 1st.

Fernando Meyers and Miss Minnie Sudman were married and have the best wishes of a large number of friends.

The season for hunting quail is near at hand but the birds are uncommonly scarce in this section of the county. Men who have been laboring in the fields the entire season say they have seen less than a dozen birds all together. Rabbits, however, are more plentiful but the farmers of this township have taken a decided stand on the matter and will prosecute all trespassers found hunting without written permits.

Jesse Hoak and Charley Coon were world's fair visitors last week.

Charley Bowsheer had several sheep killed by stray dogs one day last week. Shawnee farmers are getting tired of such outrageous slaughter of "barnyard venison" and as a result stray dogs are not shown much mercy. Hunters wishing to satisfy their unbridled inclinations in Shawnee this fall should be wise in their undertakings lest they return home minus their favorite puppies.

A POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Ashua, Ia., writes, "Last winter, I had a hard cold on my lungs and tried at least half dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Ely's Honey and Tea, and two thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world."

We have just received a direct shipment of choicest green Young Hyson Tea coming from China this season. It is too good to sell for 80c. It's the kind of Tea you occasionally read about selling for $1.50 a pound, but getting this Tea as we do, direct from the fields of China, we are in position to let you have this Tea at 80c.

The above is no fairy tale, or advertising matter written for effect. We have been in the Tea business for years. We never saw a Tea to equal this in quality at any price. Ask us for 80 cent Young Hyson.

FRANCIS HONORED.

With Ideal Weather World's Fair Held Forth Its Last Day.

The Day Being a Holiday in St. Louis and Throughout the State of Missouri. President of Exposition Make Short Address to the Assembled Multitude.

St. Louis, Dec. 1.—With ideal early weather prevailing, with the gates thrown open to children and to those who had been unable to attend for pecuniary reasons, with crowds pouring from the turnstiles, from the opening of the gate until far into the day, the Louisiana Purchase Exposition held forth its last day today. President Francis was the guest of honor today and ceremonies were conducted commemorating the services he has rendered in making the exposition a success and at the same time building far-well to the world's fair, the magnificence and greatness of which have been heralded and acknowledged throughout the entire world.

It is estimated that the attendance today was in the neighborhood of a record breaker, but it will not be known until the exposition has closed and the attendance figures officially announced. The attendance for the previous weeks had been announced every Sunday night since the beginning and the announcement last Sunday night showed that 18,317,457 admissions have been recorded since the exposition opened on April 30.

The banner months attendance was in September when the total was 3,631,872. The largest single day attendance was September 13, when "St. Louis day" was observed.

That every citizen of St. Louis might participate in the last day of the exposition and help observe "Francis Day" today was proclaimed a holiday by Mayor Wells. Governor Dockery has proclaimed throughout the state that today was especially set aside for paying final homage to the exposition and the crowd that poured in to the city on the early trains attested the fact that the proclamation was observed. A large number of business houses ceased operations today and the public schools were closed. Additional forces of officers and guards were stationed over the exposition grounds to preserve order in handling the crowds but every visitor was bent on having a last good time and there was little need of guards except for giving directions and looking after the comfort of the visitors generally.

About the time the crowds were beginning to pour into the grounds a special trolley car left the residence of President Francis conveying him to the administration building, Mayor Wells and the exposition committee on ceremonies acted as escort. After a brief reception in President Francis' office where the officials of the exposition management greeted him he was escorted by the world's fair directors, all the officials and employees of the exposition company and a detail of fifty Jefferson guards to the Plaza of St. Louis. The procession was headed by a military escort composed of all the military organization on the ground and the regular soldiers stationed at Jefferson barracks and other military organizations of St. Louis. General E. M. Rice acted as marshal of the day.

When the Plaza of St. Louis was reached President Francis took his place on the north side of the Louisiana Purchase monument, to deliver his address in the exact place where were held the opening exercises.

The board of lady managers, the members of foreign and state commissions and other notable guests occupied the immediate vicinity of the speaker's stand and stretching away into the distance on all sides was a sea of faces of those who came simply to be in attendance upon the closing exercises of the exposition.

The assemblage was called to order by Mayor Wells. Rev. Dr. S. J. Nicolls, of the second Presbyterian church, of St. Louis, invoked divine blessing. Brief addresses were made by Governor Dockery and Mayor Wells in behalf of the city of St. Louis.

President Francis was introduced and delivered his farewell address. As he arose and stepped to the front, a cheer went up from the assembled thousands. President Francis did not make an extended address, but told of the exposition as a monument to the industry of the world, as a universal institution of instruction and a patriotic success. When he had ceased speaking the large crowd again burst in cheers and then dispersed to see for the last time the wonders of the exposition. Drills and concerts throughout the grounds occupied the latter part of the day.

President Francis was tendered a reception at the house of the board of lady managers.

INTERESTING PAPERS READ

By Women Whose Lives Are Devoted to the Cause of Temperance.

Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—Among the addresses made today before the convention of the National Women's Temperance Union was one on the subject of "Non-Alcoholic Medicines" by Mrs. M. M. Allen, of New York, and another on "Health and Progeny" by Mrs. Lewis Harrington, of Massachusetts. These were the features of the morning session aside from the reports of department superintendents.

THE EXACT THING REQUIRED FOR CONSUMPTION.

As a certain purgative and stimulant, Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough to be most robust, yet mild enough to be safe for children and without the terrible griping so common to most purgatives," says R. S. Webster & Co., Ltd., Ontario, Canada. For sale by all druggists.

THE EAGLE AND THE ROOSTER.

Columbus Graham, a local contemporary poet, professes to be a natural-born son of an abstract of a poem delivered by Hon. Emmett Thompson before the Harlick club during the recent campaign. Mr. Thompson extolled the American eagle as words almost as lofty as the flight of the bird and likened the American rooster in language equally picturesque. The rooster, he said, was only a "dunghill chanticleer" while the eagle was "this glorious bird whose beak beats the thunder-clouds, whose eye looks into the sun's blazing face and never quivers, whose pinions rustle above the mountain tops," etc., etc. Then, we presume, the boys "hollered like Indians" and felt almost as good as Mr. Thompson.

Mr. Thompson is recognized hereabout as an orator of eloquence and persuasive powers. Sometimes, however, it is a good plan for an orator to know what he is talking about, as well as to know how to say what he intends to say. On the occasion mentioned Mr. Thompson knew how to say what he intended to say, but he didn't know what he was talking about.

What is the truth about the eagle? In the first place, the eagle is a natural-born coward. The accepted theories about his fighting qualities are all hush. Except when starving or pushed for his life he will never fight. He never attacks anything half his size, and when he can't find any small prey he will eat carrion. Mr. Thompson may not know it, but students of natural history have demonstrated that when a barn-yard game cock—the "dunghill chanticleer" of the orator—is put into a cage with an eagle he will "hick" the eagle in about the same time it would take the Hon. Jim Jeffries to dispose of the Hon. Emmett Thompson. The eagle is also a glutton. He will stuff himself on live or dead meat, according to which is most available until he unfit himself to eat again for days at a time. With the exception of one variety the eagle is also a fowl bird. He has no care to his toilet, as the rooster has, and smells bad generally. He is also a common thief; robbery is his business. He is also a hen-pecked husband. The female is invariably persecutes the male, and when caged and food is given them, she attempts to starve him to death and gorge herself by spreading her wings over the vials placed before them, devouring all in reach, when not snapping at her "lord and master." Compare this with the noble rooster scratching away for the hens and chicks, calling them to the banquet and then standing proudly by while they eat! But for the eagle family it may be said that if the wife abuses the husband it is because he deserves it.

John James Aubabon, the greatest American ornithologist, quotes Benjamin Franklin as lamenting the selection of the eagle as the emblem of the United States on account of its cowardice, tyranny and general ill condition. Franklin was a student of nature. The truth is that prior to Franklin's time, the nations which had selected the eagle as their emblem were invariably robber nations, existing on robbery after the manner of their patron bird.

We have no space here to extol the virtues, the bravery, the industry, the devotion and the usefulness of the rooster, nor is it necessary, whether he perches on the banners of Democracy or scratches away to provide an grateful Republicans with food. We insist that he shall not be abused in eulogy of the despicable eagle; and so insisting, we assert that Mr. Thompson owes an apology to the king of the barnyard and owes to his own intelligence a retraction of his praise of the robber of the air.

When You Have a Bad Cold.

You want a remedy that will not only give quick relief but effect a permanent cure. You want a remedy that will relieve the lungs and keep expectorations easy. You want a remedy that will counteract any tendency toward pneumonia. You want a remedy that is pleasant and safe to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these requirements and for its speedy and permanent cure of bad colds stands without a peer. For sale by all druggists.

Changed the Subject.

"Yes," said he, "life is so lonely." "It is lonely sometimes," she answered, in her most affectionate tones. "Wouldn't it be sweet to have a little cottage with all the front covered with ivy and honeysuckle and roses?" "Oh, wouldn't it?" "And when a flow comes home tired from business to have a nice little wife to meet him at the door with a kiss?" "Yes!" "And then, the winter nights, the blazing brightly in the cozy parlor and you—4 mean a wife—at the piano singing in the gloaming. It would be lovely!" "I think it would be sweet!" "And then—"

At this point a careworn woman came round the corner wheeling twice in a perambulator. A dead silence fell upon the air. Then they changed the subject.—The Pilgrim.

Danderine

GREW THIS HAIR

AND WE CAN PROVE IT.

Results from its use are QUICK and PERMANENT.

LITTLE FRANCES MARIE KNOWLTON

whose photograph appears herewith has a most beautiful head of golden hair, thicker than the crown of glory of most mature women. Frances is only four years old, and her hair hangs within 12 inches of the floor. The extraordinary hair growing qualities of Danderine has grown for this little girl the most admirable head of hair ever possessed by a child of her age in the world. The other two ladies whose photographs are shown here are certainly delighted with the results they are getting. Neither of them having hair that would reach to their waists before beginning the use of Danderine.

IT IS POSITIVE AND PERMANENT IN ITS RESULTS.

When applied to the scalp on either old or young, it makes the hair sprout and grow thick, long and beautiful, and there is no waiting around for weeks and months to see results, either. SHOCKING NEWS. LIMITED APOLOGY.

A member of the faculty of the University of Chicago tells of the sad case of a young woman from Indiana, who was desirous of attaining social prominence in Chicago.

Soon after her arrival there she made the acquaintance of a student at the university to whom she took a great fancy. Evidently it was at this time that she realized for the first time her early education had been neglected, for she said to a friend: "I suppose that, as he is a college man, I'll have to be awful careful what I say. What'll I talk about to him?"

The friend suggested history as a safe topic. To her friend's astonishment, she took the advice seriously and shortly commenced in earnest to "bore up" in English history.

When the young man called the girl history for some time with ill-concealed impatience to his talk of football, outdoor sports, dances, etc., but finally she decided to take the matter in her own hands. She had not done all that reading for nothing, so a name in the conversation affording the desired opportunity, she suddenly exclaimed, with considerable vivacity: "Wasn't I awfully about Mary, Queen of Scots?"

"What's the matter?" stammered the student, confused. "My gracious!" almost yelled the girl from Indiana, "didn't you know? Why the poor thing had her head cut off!"—Harper's Weekly.

You cannot cure piles by external application. Any remedy to be effective must be applied inside, right at the seat of the trouble. Manzan is out up in a collapsible tube, with a nozzle, so that it reaches inside and applies the remedy where it is most needed. Manzan strengthens the blood vessels and nerves so that piles are impossible. Manzan relieves the pain almost instantly, heals, soothes, cools and cures. H. F. Vorkamp.

A TRIBUTE TO "DAD."

We happened in a house the other day and over the parlor door saw the legend in letters of red, "What is Home Without a Mother?" Across the room was another brief, God bless Our Home. Now what's the matter with "God Bless Our Dad?" He gets up early, lights the fire, and wipes the dew off the lawn with his boots while many a mother is sleeping. He makes the weekly hand-out for the butcher, the grocer, the milkman and the baker. He stands off the halfpenny and keeps the rent up. It is a noise during the night, that is made to go down stairs and find the burglar and kill him. Mother darts the socks, but he darts the socks and the yarn afterward. Mother does up the fruit, well, dad bought it and the jars and sugar cost a lot. "What is Home Without a Mother?" Yes that is all right but what is home without a father? Ten chances to one it is a boarding house, father is buried and the landlady is a widow. It's back to you, you've got your cents, you may have lots of them, but you're all right and we'll miss you when you are gone.—Exchange.

WEATHER.

Washington, Nov. 1.—For Ohio and Kentucky, fair tonight and Wednesday.

The democratic ticket, national and state, and municipal, is composed of candidates of high character, ability, and undoubted intelligence. Mr. Frank Bell, who is on the democratic ticket, is a candidate for member of board of education, and is a man of high character and ability.

The county of Franklin is a splendidly fertile one, and is described by the people as a land of plenty. The county of Allen is a fertile one, and is described by the people as a land of plenty. Every democrat who possibly do so should vote for the democratic ticket, and then he will be a part of the great victory.

ROOSEVELT'S

Insult to Farmers, Farm Laborers and Mechanics.

The CENTURY MAGAZINE, Vol. XXXV, No. 4.

RANCH LIFE IN THE FAR WEST.

Peril and hardship and years of long toil, broken by weeks of brutal dissipation, draw haggard lines across their faces, but never dim their rock-less eyes nor break their bearing of defiant self-confidence. When drunk on the villainous whiskey of the frontier towns, they cut mad antics, riding their horses into the saloons, firing their pistols right and left from boisterous lightheartedness rather than from any viciousness, and in indulging too often in deadly shooting at rays, brought on either by the accidental contact of the moment or on account of some long-standing grudge, or perhaps because of bad blood between two ranches or locations; but except while on such sprees they are quiet, rather self-contained men, perfectly frank and simple, and on their own ground treat a stranger with the most wholesome hospitality, doing all in their power for him and scorning to take any reward in return.

Although prompt to resent an injury, they are not at all apt to be rude to outsiders, treating them with what can almost be called a grave courtesy.
THEY ARE MUCH BETTER FELLOWS AND PLEASANTER COMPAN-IONS THAN SMALL FARMERS OR AGRICULTURAL LABORERS; NOR ARE THE MECHANICS AND WORKMEN OF A GREAT CITY TO BE MENTIONED IN THE SAME BREATH.

THE COMMONER, OCTOBER 24, '04

Read the Appeal of Hon. W. J. Bryan to Democrats as to Their Duty on Election Day.

A WORD WITH DEMOCRATS.

EVERY MAN IS RESPONSIBLE FOR HIS INFLUENCE, BE IT SMALL
OR GREAT. EVERY DEMOCRAT WHO VOTES FOR PARKER VOTES
TO DEFEAT ROOSEVELT. EVERY DEMOCRAT WHO DOES NOT VOTE
FOR PARKER CONTRIBUTES TOWARD THE ELECTION OF ROOSE-VELT. ON EVERY QUESTION UPON WHICH JUDGE PARKER'S POSI-TION IS OPEN TO CRITICISM, PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S POSITION IS WORSE: WHERE THEY DIFFER AS THEY DO ON MANY IMPORT-ANT QUESTIONS, PARKER IS RIGHT AND ROOSEVELT IS WRONG.

ROOSEVELT FAVORS A HIGH TARIFF; PARKER FAVORS TARIFF REFORM. ROOSEVELT FAVORS A STANDING ARMY OF 60,000 AT THE MINIMUM; PARKER FAVORS A REDUCTION OF THE ARMY.
ROOSEVELT HAS BROUGHT THE RACE ISSUE INTO NATIONAL POLITICS; PARKER WOULD REMOVE THE RACE ISSUE FROM POLI-TICS.

ROOSEVELT STANDS FOR A COLONIAL POLICY; PARKER FAV-ORS INDEPENDENCE FOR THE FILIPINOS AND WOULD MAKE THE PROMISE NOW.

ROOSEVELT TOOK INTO THE WHITE HOUSE A SPIRIT OF WAR;
JUDGE PARKER WOULD SUBSTITUTE FOR IT A SPIRIT OF PEACE.
FOUR YEARS MORE OF ROOSEVELT WOULD MAKE ECONOMIC AND INDUSTRIAL REFORM MORE DIFFICULT; JUDGE PARKER'S ELECTION WOULD CLEAR THE WAY FOR ECONOMIC ISSUES. LET NO DEMOCRAT BY VOTING AGAINST PARKER OR BY REFUSING TO VOTE, TAKE UPON HIMSELF RESPONSIBILITY FOR FOUR YEARS
MORE OF ROOSEVELTISM.

STATISTICS FOR STUDY.

(From Lima speech of A. P. Sandles, Democratic Candidate for Secretary of State against a third term.)
Today we are told that Ohio is a six million dollar State with a five million dollar income. In 1890 it was a two million dollar State with an income equal to its expenditures. Why should a Republican administration cost three times as much as a Democratic one?

session laws 1890, page 309, and session laws 1894, page 595.

	Dem. 1890	Rep. 1894
Ohio National Guard	$1,300	$293,580
26 laborers State House and grounds	3,900	22,000
23 laborers State House and grounds	15,000	12,100
Total expense State House and grounds	17,250	21,610
Expenses of Adjutant General	1,500	38,000
Expenses of Attorney General Department	3,000	36,577
Expenses of Auditor of State	3,700	20,000
Expenses of Board of Health	300	4,100
Expenses of Board of Pardons	2,100	6,510
Expenses of Board of State Charities	52,800	99,123
Expenses of Board of Public Works	1,500	10,700
Expenses of Canal Commission	2,500	18,720
Expenses of Inspector of Mines	3,800	35,380
Expenses of Inspector of workshops and factories	42,925	119,000
Expenses of Legislature	288,200	554,819
Expenses of Ohio Penitentiary	38,200	44,000
Expenses of Secretary of State	3,125	23,600
Expenses of Ohio State Library	3,250	84,500
Expenses of Supervisor of public printing	1,200	13,100
Expenses of Supreme Court	2,240	7,200
Expenses of Clerk of Supreme Court	2,240	16,070
Expenses of Treasurer of State	2,500	19,000
Expenses of Ohio State Reformatory	160,100	258,500
Expenses of Columbus State Hospital	97,600	162,000
Expenses of Athens State Hospital	144,650	212,500
Expenses of Dayton State Hospital	83,800	218,000
Expenses of Longview State Hospital	95,000	180,000
Expenses of Toledo State Hospital	145,550	297,500
Expenses of Boys Industrial School	38,750	167,250
Expenses of Girls Industrial School	40,100	78,100
Expenses of Blind Asylum	46,825	86,550
Expenses of Deaf and Dumb Asylum	67,600	129,500
Expenses of Feeble-minded Youth's Institution	115,900	328,500
Expenses of Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home	111,750	94,980
Expenses of Ohio S. and S. Orphans Home	186,516	196,320
Expenses of Bureau of Labor Statistics	3,400	28,010
Expenses of Executive Department	2,700	17,500

It is interesting to note that the appropriations made for the Soldiers and Sailors and their Orphans were greater under a democratic legislature than the present one. All other institutions of the State have increased expenses.

The above figures have alarmed the State Republican leaders.
Secretary of State Lavitt and Auditor Gubler are blamed.
Salaries were raised and new offices created for men who helped them to get Third Term Nomination.

Sound by his own act respect to vote
a straight democratic ticket.

There is great fear that because of the large size of the ballot, and the complexity of the new election law requirements, that a large percentage of the ballots cast next Tuesday will be worthless and meaningless.

There is but one safe way—put a cross under the emblem of the party
you are going to vote for, and let it speak for you.

The whole of Roosevelt's candidacy and his tactics, including the registration of the treasury, have been unable with their strenuous demands, to build a party for Judge Parker. The Judge is one of the sort of men who thinks about what he is going to say,
and then he says it with facts, and then he draws conclusions to the public.

his own home county, to Anglaize
and Mercer, by Col. Frank Campbell, of Ginn & Co., notoriety, for a spellbinding tour had a doubly sinister motive. Passing as Kane's friends, the Republican-Gazette crowd have been striving to keep him out of the county while they worked the scheme of trading off Kahle for votes for Charley Johnston, the republican nominee for commissioner. And this they sought to do, while deluding Dr. Kahle with the belief that if he would spend his time in other counties, he could be elected.

Mr. Garber's election is a certainty, and even had it not been, he would have done just what he does now, and that is to ask the democrats of Allen county to stick to a straight ticket.

FURNISHES THE PROOF.

The Ginn & Co. editor of the Republican-Gazette, ex-postmaster, ex-railroad commissioner—a splendid school for instruction in graft—excellent governor and now subordinary representative of Ginn & Co.
in Ohio, through his son who represents the same firm in the whole state of Iowa, has been writing. He writ three columns for a dry Sunday sermon, and in it all there were only two acts deserving of notice by even a mild critic, and even these would be passed by, did they not convincingly prove out of his own mouth,
the charge the Times-Democrat has made that he and his Iowa state agent had formulated a plan to turn the furnishing of all school books over to Ginn & Co. without competition. The first act of his hippodrome, with the people as puppets, was simply as "Iowa Idea" stunt with "Billy Rain-in-the-Face." Was that the people have neither patience or interest.

In the second act, third scene, four thousand words from top of column.
Mr. Campbell, as we have ascertained,
the father of the son of the Iowa state agent for Ginn & Co. says:
"As to the charges that the editor of the Gazette attended the committee meeting, or was consulted, or had a word to say, when a non-partizan board was talked of, there is not a scintilla of truth—it is a story made up of whole cloth."

THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT NEVER SAID MR. CAMPBELL ATTENDED.
WAS CONSULTED WITH, OR HAD A WORD TO SAY WHEN A "NON-PARTIZAN BOARD" WAS TALKED OF BUT WE DID SAY, AND WE NOW REPEAT IT, THAT MR.
CAMPBELL WAS NOT ONLY CON-SULTED WITH, BUT THAT HE HAD ALL TO SAY WHEN A "PAR-TIZAN BOARD" WAS TALKED OF.

That was just what he and his son needed to complete their plan to steal
the school book business of Lima, by placing it where they could control
the board of education.

Why, Mr. Campbell, the ex-postmaster, ex-railroad commissioner, exlieutenant governor, and father of the Iowa state agent for Ginn & Co., himself says so. That brings us up to the third and last act, and final conclusion in his comedy of errors. He says:

"The republican convention nominated a straight ticket of representative citizens, and every one of them pledged to a new deal in school matters."

Pledged to whom?

We know of no pledges being demanded of anyone wanting to be on the board of education, except those approached by the republican city committee which is controlled to a man by the Republican Gazette crowd.

A special effort will be made to find any hidden Republicans on the Foster reception committee, or on the stage as vice presidents at the Foster meeting tonight.

Foster's coming into the hustings of Allen county will accomplish three things. It will be salary day for Quill; it will solidify democrats, and it ought to complete the disaffection of the Hanna followers from the republican party.

OPPORTUNE TIME.

There should be mounting activity upon the part of every democrat from now until election day. The outlook for the county and city was never better. The country precincts will come to Lima with their normal democratic majority, and the after registration figures show that an even break in Lima is a certainty.

The time is opportune to put the stamp of disapproval on militarism;
on a tariff that makes the rich richer,
and the poor poorer; on all kinds of class legislation enacted only by the republican party when in power; on the spoils system in nation, state, county, city, and in educational matters, and to demand by your ballot or a return to a government of the people, for and by the people.

NARROW ESCAPE.

The people of South Lima as well as of the whole city can congratulate themselves on the fact that if the Lima Savings Bank and Trust Company had to go to the wall, that it went before it was made a depository for the school fund. That it would have been that had it not temporarily closed is not questioned. With Mr.
Churchill, cashier of the bank, and a member of the Quill-Campbell school board, and with Frank Downing, attorney for the bank, it could not have been otherwise.

PRINTER, SOLDIER, STUDENT, EDITOR CANDIDATE.

At the democratic state convention held at Columbus last May the democrats of Ohio nominated as their candidate for State Dairy and Food Commissioner, Quintin M. Gravatt, of Wayne county. He is a young man of energy and ability who through 10 years of hard work and study has worked himself up from the position of "devil" in a printing office to the editor's chair.

He is now a candidate before the people for the important position of Food and Dairy Commissioner and comes before the voters backed by the strong recommendations of his many friends both at home and over the state.

As the best judgment of the voters should be exercised in selecting a man to fill that important position we print a sketch of Mr. Gravatt.

He is a grandson, on his mother's side, of Cornelius Moore, of Cincinnati, who, for nearly thirty years was editor and publisher of the Masonic Review, a magazine published in that city and devoted to the interest of that order, and which enjoyed a national reputation. His father is H.
P. Gravatt, who in July, 1881, purchased an interest in the Wayne County Democrat, and moved from Columbus to Wooster. Mr. Gravatt at the time was prominent in Ohio Fellowship, being Grand Master of the order in Ohio, and had been engaged in the editorship of the Old Fellows' Companion.

Quintin M. Gravatt was born in Columbus and went to Wooster with the rest of the family, and grew up there.
He attended his schools and early began to set type in the office of the Wayne County Democrat.

In 1895 the martial spirit took him into Company D, Eighth regiment, O. N. G., later known as the "President's Own," in which he continued seven years—until April, 1902. When the Spanish-American war broke out,
he was a student in the University of Wooster. A suspension of studies was granted to him, and he marched as a private with Company D, Eighth, O. N. G., through all its marches and took part with his regiment in the campaign before Santiago, Cuba, until the war was over, and the regiment returned home.

On the return of Company D, Quintin M. Gravatt resumed his studies at the University of Wooster and besides worked as a journeyman
in the Democrat office.

On the 11th of May, 1902, E. D.
Bushman was compelled by impaired health and advanced years to retire from the active editorship and business supervision of the Democrat, and sold his interest therein to H. P.
Gravatt. This change required Quintin
M. Gravatt to take editorial charge of the Democrat and to relinquish his student work at the university.

The honor conferred upon him is a worthy one, and as in the relations of printer, soldier, student and editor,
he has been marked by industry, fidelity and ability, so would he discharge the duties of the office to which he has been nominated. The worthily bestowed, and his election on the 8th of November would be a matter upon which the people of Ohio could congratulate themselves.

The Dorcas Society will meet with Mrs. Van Blon, 403 east High street,
Friday afternoon.

WOOL MARKET IS VERY FIRM.

Boston, Nov. 1.—In the wool market
here this week there is a general business and a steady movement.
Manufacturers are watching the market closely and getting supplies
while wool remains in sight.

Woolen goods hold firm, but the finer wools are yet quiet. Ohio fine delaines 36c for washed, with XX and above 34c to 35c. Ohio unwashed delaines 25c. Medium fleeces firm, choice lines of one-quarter and threeeighths blood unwashed Ohio 20c and ritory wools holds on well. About 35c to 40c is the scored basis for fine, with staple lots up to 65c to 66c.

BROTHER DICKLEY'S SAYINGS.

POLE

Pulled Out of Fire Ladder Truck
And as Result

Driver Bryan Was Badly Injured.

False Alarm Had Been Sent In From Box Thirty-two On the East Side.

Bad Condition of the High Street Railroad Crossing Said to Be Responsible For the Accident.

As the result of a false alarm and the bad condition of the railroad crossing on east High street, Wesley Bryan, of the central fire department, was seriously injured about 12 o'clock last night.

Some miscreant, whose identity the police are endeavoring to discover, sent in a false alarm from box 32 at High and Sugar streets, and the ladder truck, chemical wagon and chief's buggy turned out from the central station. Bryan was driving the team hitched to the ladder truck and was ahead of the chemical wagon, and as the vehicle went bouncing over the railroad tracks at the crossing on east High street, the tongue of the ladder truck broke away from its fastenings and driver Bryan was jerked from the seat and hurled violently onto the pavement. He turned a complete somersault as he went over the front of the truck and landed heavily on his back and elbows. The team continued running dragging the tongue behind it and did not stop until the pole struck against a telephone pole at Sugar street, half a mile from the scene of the accident. The truck swung to one side of the street missed the prostrate form of the driver and did not stop until it headed northward in Jackson street. Bryan barely had time to roll to one side of the street when the chemical wagon swiftly passed him, the team running at full speed. He was assisted into Chief Coates' buggy and was taken to the central station, where he was attended by Dr. E. G. Weddick. No bones were broken but his back was so badly injured that it will be some time before he will be able to walk. Today, he was removed to the home of his brother, on McPherson avenue, in Bennett's ambulance.

An investigation proved today that the railroad crossings on High street, where the accident occurred, is in a very bad condition, the rail standing high above such crossing planks as are there. The crossing has been badly in need of repairs for a long time and frequent complaints made to the board of public service have brought no relief.

Another false alarm was sent in about 7 o'clock this morning from box 53, at Kirby and Metcalf streets.

BANK PROBLEM IS NOT SOLVED

But Officers Still Hope That a Sufficient Sum Will be Raised.

Negotiations Still Pending In the Efforts of Officers to Secure a Loan—Hope to Open the Bank's Doors on Thursday Morning.

The Lima Savings Bank and Trust Company problem is still unsolved, but Attorneys Welty and Downing, and the officers of the embarrassed institution are still working with a hope that a sufficient sum of money may be raised to pay all of the bank's creditors who demand their money and they still entertain the hope that the bank may be kept out of the hands of a receiver and saved the expense that litigation and the appointment of a receiver would create. The hearing in common pleas court of Robert H. Downing's application for the appointment of a receiver is still being held off by the attorneys for Downing and the bank at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, Attorney Welty and Mr. Dewey, son of J. N. Dewey, of Toledo, stated that negotiations were under way by which they hoped to secure a sufficient sum of money to pay the depositors and that they believed they would secure the funds in time to open the bank's doors on next Thursday morning. If these negotiations fail in their purpose, it is believed that the appointment of a receiver cannot be longer avoided.

Judging from the conversation had with Mr. Welty, Mr. Dewey and others who are interested in the affairs of the bank, it will require a sum of about $50,000 to satisfy the claims of the bank's depositors. Ten thousand dollars has been placed at the disposal of the bank's officers by Mr. J. N. Dewey, of Toledo, father-in-law of President Leighton, and it is probable that he is in position and willing to come forward with even a greater sum to assist in protecting the bank from the expense of litigation and a receivership. It will be necessary, however, for the bank's officers to raise about $10,000 more than the amount now at hand in order to place the institution in condition to stand the run that will undoubtedly be precipitated by the opening of its doors.

Mr. Welty stated today that there were a number of depositors, including himself, P. F. Mell, the South Side Lumber Co., and a number of others, who have sufficient confidence in the value of the bank's assets and in the institution's ability to pull through the rut into which it has dropped, to wait 60 days or more, before demanding a remittance of their deposits and in the event of the bank's doors being reopened they will wait for their money in order that all of the depositors who do demand their money may have their claims immediately satisfied.

The negotiations that were on yesterday, which contemplated the absorption of the affairs of the bank and the adjustment of its affairs by the Lima Trust Co. have fallen through, and are believed to have been abandoned entirely on account of the alleged confused condition of the books of the south side institution. The records are said to have been very poorly kept.

COST ONE

Of Registration no Was Killed by the Small Item Farmer

And the City And Seven Are

Is Called Upon to Pay the Bill.

Special Meeting of the City Council Held Last Evening.

Ordinance Fixing the Assessments For the Improvement of Cherry Alley Was Passed—Other Business.

The fact that republican legislators are expensive luxuries was demonstrated to the city council last night when City Auditor Fred C. Beam notified that body of the probable cost of registration in the city and informed the councilmen that the city would have to pay the bills. The cost of this year's registration already totals up to the extent of $1,076.20, for room rent, registrar's salaries and incidentals and does not include the cost of printing and other expenses which will make the aggregate about $1,500, and possibly even more. The matter was referred to the finance committee during the special session that was held last night.

An ordinance fixing the assessments for the paving of Cherry alley from North street to Market street, was passed under suspended rules.

An ordinance vacating a strip of land along west Elm street, was passed. Plat of Michael's second addition to the city of Lima, was passed under a suspension of rules.

Matter of the proposed opening of Linden street, was referred to a special committee, there being some land needed for the opening that has not yet been secured.

Petition for a sewer in Buckeye alley was referred back to the petitioners.

Proposition to build a sewer in Elizabeth street from High to Elm street and thence west to West street, at a probable cost of about $15,465, was referred to the board of public service.

Nursing Serious Shot Gun Wounds.

Farmer Aided by His Hired Man Makes Good Threat Against Prankers.

It Is Believed That When They Fired They Did Not Know the Young Men Were So Near.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 1.—Roy Lindsay, aged 27 years and married, is dying and seven other young men are nursing shot wounds, which they received last night during a Halloween lark at Smith's Creek, near this city. The young men accompanied by several others, who were not wounded had gone to the farm of Joseph Lambert, who it is claimed threatened previous to Halloween that any pranks attempted at his expense would be severely punished.

The young men had just stepped through his gate, it is alleged, when Lambert and his hired man fired on them with shot guns from behind a strawstack. Lindsay fell fatally wounded and the other seven dropped to the ground with shot wounds in various parts of their bodies. It is believed that the farmers when they fired failed to realize that the young men were near enough to be seriously injured by the shot.

Princess Flavia's Betrothal

By E. W. SARGENT

Copyright, 1904, by E. W. Sargent

"The royal house of Ruritania demands your aid and protection. I must speak to you at once. Be cautious!"

Morgan's face turned a sickly green as he saw the girl's face. He was not a man to be easily frightened, but the girl's face was so beautiful that he felt that he was in the presence of a goddess. He was not a man to be easily frightened, but the girl's face was so beautiful that he felt that he was in the presence of a goddess.

"How can I serve you?" he asked as he dropped into the seat beside her. She gave a tiny cry of delight. "I knew I could not be wrong," she said, glancing apprehensively about the car. "I knew you were from Ruritania. I am—er—she lowered her voice—"Ethel, princess of the royal house."

Morgan gave a start. Here was a little woman who claimed connection with a royal family of fiction, yet gave no indication of the insanity proved by her words. She accepted the start as a tribute to her revelation.

"I do not wonder that you start," she said complacently. "You must be fa-amiliar with Ruritania news and know that I am pursued. Still it is strange to find me here in America. I am going to my niece, the Princess Flavia, who is now in Chicago."

There was something grotesque in this odd jumble of the Hope story and the American towns. Morgan glanced apprehensively about the car. There was no woman to whom he could make appeal. There were three in the sleeper, but Morgan knew the type only too well. One was evidently a traveling saleswoman, since she fraternized with the other commercial travelers in the car and made notes of the points they offered for her instruction. One was evidently a snobletre who vied with the woman drummer for the attention of the men. The third was a young woman whose very face betokened her incapacity.

He leaned over to the little princess. "It would be better," he suggested, "that no one should know that you are a princess. I, too, am going to Chicago and will wait upon your commands. The others in the car are not to be trusted, believe me."

"Bless your heart," she fairly beamed upon him—it is not always that her Ruritania subjects yielded this ready acquiescence—"I don't dare reveal myself to any but a Ruritania. Don't you see?"—her voice grew confidential—"that there is Black Michael in the smoker? It would never do for him to realize that I was in this very car when he came to America on purpose to destroy me. He thinks that with me out of the way it would be easy to marry Flavia. That will never be. I am determined that she shall marry Rudolph. That is why I am forced to flee my own country."

All that long afternoon Morgan humored her whim. It would never do to let her proclaim her royalty to the others. There was not a single soul in the crowded Chicago sleeper who would see the paros of her condition. Instead she would be made the object of their jeers. She was such a dainty little old lady that he could not bear the thought of her being subjected to ridicule.

He took her in to dinner, paying proper deference to royalty and showing that he appreciated the honor of dining with one of a race of kings. After that he played piquet with her until she became sleepy, and it was he who gave the porter an extra tip to make her berth down first.

Early the next morning she was in her seat smiling and happy. When Morgan emerged from his berth. She beckoned to him. "I slept soundly," she said blithely. "From time to time I awakened to hear the tramp of my knight's footsteps in the aisle, and I knew that the Princess of Ruritania was safely guarded."

Morgan smiled that the awakenings were due to the steps and that her knight's footsteps were those of the porter as he conducted weary travelers to their berths, but he smiled and said nothing.

All the morning he played her favorite piquet with her, and in a way it was a help to him. For it made him forget that he was on his way to seek the girl he loved. A few minutes before it had been his duty as district attorney to go down west New York to obtain the continued of a lawsuit. It was clear that the man had committed the crime, but a clever lawyer had created a feeling of sympathy for the criminal and from Ruritania and ready to admit that she could never forget the love of a man who had sent an innocent fellow being to the gallows.

She had sent for suitable following morning and had not even given him a check—to plead his cause. He was on his way there now in the hope that a change of scene would enable him to make a more successful appeal to her reason.

The breaking of the engagement had been a terrible shock to him, and her highness from Ruritania at last enabled him to partially forget the pain that was gnawing at his heart.

Shortly before 3 the train pulled into the yards at Chicago, and presently they were in the station after a tedious journey between lanes of freight and passenger cars on side tracks. Just before they arrived the princess insisted upon having his card and his Chicago address. "We Ruritans are so few," she protested, "that I am unwilling to lose sight of such a faithful subject." And unwillingly he had given her his card with the Bismarck hastily pencilled in the corner. She would forget before she had reached her home, he argued.

There was a young man at the train to meet her, and he was warm in his thanks to Morgan. The young district attorney hurried to the hotel that was to break his travel. Three hours later a bell boy knocked upon his door and handed in a dainty note.

"The Princess Flavia," it read in unfamiliar hand, "would be glad to welcome to Chicago the traveler from Ruritania, who by his courtesy has done so much to help the Princess Ethel," and there followed an address of Michigan avenue.

From curiosity Morgan determined to follow the odd experience to the end, and as soon as he could unpack his dress suit he called a cab and gave the address.

Arriving, he was promptly shown into the parlor, and in a moment there entered a woman whose presence caused Morgan's heart to thrill. With a cry of "Irene!" he sprang forward, and in another moment she was folded within his arms.

Ten minutes later, when speech was possible, she explained that the Princess Ethel was her maiden aunt, whose dementia took the form of the belief that she was one of the omitted characters in the Hope novel.

"When I heard from Cousin Jack," she said gently, "of the man who had been so kind, I realized that you had done it to keep her misfortune from the rest of the car, and a man who can take all those pains to spare poor Aunt Ethel cannot be as heartless as I supposed you were. I realize my mistake, Morgan. Can you forgive me?"

A kiss was his only answer, but an eloquent one. So engrossed were they that they failed to hear footsteps until a thin treble was heard announcing, "Well, I never suspected that you were the real Rudolph, but I am glad that my niece came from Omaha to meet me."

"Then the Princess Ethel approved," asked Morgan.

"Yes," declared the Princess Ethel, and a whispered echo, "Yes," from the Princess Flavia sealed the understanding.

He Stayed Away.

A story illustrating the anxiety of applicants for public office and the small figure that some of them cut in their appointments is told regarding the late Simon Cameron of Pennsylvania.

While he was a power in the state a man who had been useful to him politically desired to obtain the postmaster-ship in one of the leading cities of the Keystone State. The man was small of stature and insignificant looking. After his case had been pending for ten days he became a little agitated and sent a telegram to Senator Cameron, which read in substance as follows:

"What causes delay in my appointment? Shall I come to Washington?"

In the course of an hour or so he received the following characteristic reply:

"No. Stay away from Washington at all hazards. The president has promised to appoint you, but if he sees you he may change his mind."

The applicant wisely remained away and in course of the next fortnight was appointed and received his commission as postmaster.—New York Tribune.

Two Kinds of Historians.

There are, roughly speaking, two kinds of historians—the historian for the specialist and the historian for the average intelligent human being. The one aims at the increase of knowledge, the other at stimulating and ennobling perception. As for the first, he frequently provides the material out of which books should be written rather than the books themselves. He does not give us art, but science, and his science has the greatest value. He is apt to lose himself in detail—(o spend laborious pages in proving that, say, Dr. Fell of the old legend was really one Fele, a Norman physician at the court of King John, that the "not" in the rhyme was interpolated and that Fele was universally beloved. This sort of student is nowadays too common in every domain, whether of history, art, criticism or theology. He is useful enough in his own place, but he is too apt to forget that Sir John Falstaff will live forever, while his own comes upon Sir John Oldcastle's remains unnoted upon the shelf.—London Times.

A new theory that is proving successful in the cure of Coughs, Lung and Bronchial affections is offered in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy cuts the mucous, heals the membranous lining of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes; wards off pneumonia and strengthens the system generally. Croup and Whooping Cough disappear before its use as snow before the sunshine of Spring. It's pleasant. Sold by H. F. Vorkamp's drug store.

Soldier's Sense of Humor.

A high school official, now dead, offered as an example of ghostly humor an incident that befell a young woman during the civil war.

"She was cool and kind," he would say, "and during the war she treated the hospital daily of wounding troops and flowers and plants."

"One morning one of her wounds a young soldier, immediately after she had passed him set up a loud laugh.

She turned and looked at him in surprise. His seemed a pitiful case. Nothing of him but his face was visible on the little white bed, and this young face was sadly thin and pale. Nevertheless, he laughed like one possessed. His mirth resounded through the green-some room.

"The visitor returned to him.

"Will you tell me what amuses you?" she said.

"Why, ma'am, said he, 'here you have given me a tract on the sin of dancing when I've not both legs shot off.'—Baltimore Herald.

Careful of Her Nose.

Many interesting stories of courtiers and favorites at the old French court are found in the memoirs of the Marquise de Crequy. She says that on certain solemn occasions kings of France wore ermine linings to their robes, but ermine became scarce, and she writes: "The anointing of Louis XV. was retarded some years for want of this fur for the court mantles, and at the coronation of Louis XIV. they actually used catskin." Superbly elegant was the Carrosse de la Foire, who generally was carried around under a canopy. The marquise goes into ecstasies concerning this particular duchesse, whose eyes "had the most disdainful expression I ever saw, though they had a slight cast in them." But her supreme elegance can be appreciated when it is known "she never blew her nose for fear of spoiling her Greek contour, but dabbed it at intervals with a small square of cambric."

Benjamin Franklin's Wife.

A very unflattering description of Benjamin Franklin's wife is taken from the diary of Daniel Fisher, who was Franklin's secretary for a short time. "She sat on the floor at a neighbor's. She assumed the airs of extraordinary freedom and great humility, lamented heavily the misfortunes of those who are unhappy, infected with a too tender or benevolent disposition, said she believed all the world claimed the privilege of troubling her puppy—so she usually calls Mr. Franklin—with their calamities and distress, giving us a general history of many such wretches and their impertinent applications." He mentions "the turbulence and jealousy and pride of her disposition," and the violence of her invectives. Pointing to Franklin's son one day, she exclaimed, "There goes the greatest villain upon earth."

Books in Series.

While it is certainly a pretty sight to see a long row of books in a neat and uniform binding, like soldiers on parade, there is a distinct loss of individuality. As you glance over some books upon their shelves it is pleasant to recognize them from their outward dress. They keep themselves better hidden if each one is not exactly like its neighbors. You are even likely to forget what you have if you cannot know them from across the room.

We often go to the bookstore looking simply for "something to read," and then it is an advantage to know each book at the first glance. Of course this does not apply so strongly to the works of a single author. These belong in a uniform, and you know what is among them.—St. Nicholas.

Flirting in Japan.

A Japanese woman flirts—as far as she knows the meaning of the word—with her sleeves and fan and not with her eyes and smiles. By the different movements of the ends of her kimono sleeves she manages to convey to her admirers all sorts of unspoken messages, and by the opening and shutting of her fan to the right or to the left she can reject or accept the most weighty offers. Her code signaling with her sleeves and fan is quite an item of her social education.

French Soldiers' Handkerchiefs.

The cotton handkerchiefs provided for French soldiers have printed upon them a number of sanitary precepts to be observed on the march and during a campaign and are further decorated with medallions containing pictures of officers of all grades, the different uniforms being so distinctly portrayed that a French private can tell at a glance to what grade any officer he may see belongs.

Well She Might.

An old German historian of Tubingen describes an attack by the French in 1671 during which eighteen persons were killed by the exploding of a mine. A soldier's wife was thrown the distance of an acre. She was not hurt, the chronicler adds quaintly, "but she scolded terribly and was in a very bad humor."

After the Quarrel.

She—There is just one little bit of millinery that I desire more. He (crossly)—You needn't say any more. I won't buy it for you. She—Don't be afraid. You'll never get the bill for it. It's a widow's bonnet.

A Sure Way.

Mabel—I wish I knew some way to make George forget me, for I can never marry him. Henry—Have you tried lending him money?—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A very wise man once said that when he began to feel too important, he got a map of the universe and tried to find himself on it.

ONE LUNG

May be gone and yet the remaining lung will be amply sufficient to sustain a vigorous vitality. As a general thing few people make more use of both lungs than is equivalent to a healthy use of one lung.

These facts are all in the favor of the man or woman with weak lungs, even when disease has a strong grip on them.

Many a person, living in health to-day has the lungs marked by the healed scars of disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes weak lungs strong. It cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, bronchitis, blood-spitting, and other conditions, which, if neglected or unskillfully treated, find a fatal termination in consumption.

It had been troubled with lung disease and pleurisy for a number of years and the trouble had almost become chronic," writes A. S. Chan of Howe, N. H.

"I had several kinds of medicine without much benefit. At last wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce and got his advice, and began using his Golden Medical Discovery. I have used twenty-five bottles. When I commenced taking it I had no appetite, my system was completely run-down, had no ambition to do anything. Now I feel better than I did before I got sick. Have a good appetite and am able to do my work. I am greatly indebted to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to all who are afflicted as I was."

Those who suffer from chronic diseases are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery."

NOT GUILTY.

In a Chicago court recently a man was on trial, and held responsible for an injury to a man's eye. The clerk reading the indictment, said: "You are accused of running the end of your umbrella in this man's eye. Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"Not guilty. The umbrella doesn't belong to me."

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Indemnity Savings & Loan Co., Plaintiff,

Her Christian Name

By BEVERLY SMITH

Copyright, 1904, by W. W. Hines

Since war, to quote from Jimmie Spencer, Henry Walcott's "long suit," there was a great bond of friendship between the two. Perhaps they followed in this the law that opposites attract each other, for Jimmie Spencer was the reverse of Henry Walcott in almost every particular. While Henry was tall and dark, Jimmie was rather the medium height and so inclined to rotundity of figure that his face, beaming always with good humor, inevitably suggested to an observer the qualifying adjective "chubby."

"Why do I like Henry so well?" said Jimmie one day in reply to a question. "Because he is such a jolly good fellow and knows how to keep his mouth shut. Say, do you know," growing suddenly enthusiastic, "Henry can speak English, German and Spanish, but, by Henry, he knows how to keep quiet in about fourteen other languages, not counting dialects and slang."

"Why do I like Jimmie?" said Henry musingly. "Because he is a jolly good fellow and knows how to talk. I suppose."

So they sat now in front of a cheerful open fire in Walcott's room, smoking and talking. Jimmie was chatting away, as usual, but there was something a bit distraught in his manner which did not escape the keen eye of his friend. By and by Henry Jimmie's fund of small talk seemed exhausted, and each sat, smoking and musing.

It was Henry who broke the silence. "Sit up, Jimmie, and talk out like a man," said he, with a laugh. "You know you never tramped all the way up here in the snow and then climbed three flights of stairs just to have a chat. Out with it, man! What have you got on your mind?"

Jimmie looked up queerly and,

"Then you are engaged to Kate Preston?"

catching the friendly gleam in the other's eye, he laughed himself and replied:

"No dodging you, you sir dog! I have you are a mind reader anyhow." "Perhaps I do a bit in that line now and then," answered Henry, with an assumption of great mystery, "and to prove it to you I will tell you that you came up here for no other purpose than to tell me that you have gone and got yourself engaged."

"Now, how in thunder did you know that?" asked Jimmie, sitting up in astonishment.

"You look guilty," answered Henry, with one of his peculiar, almost inaudible chuckles.

"But I never told you that I was even paying attention to the girl whom I am to have the honor of marrying," declared Jimmie protestingly. "You could not have had any idea of it."

"Now, Jimmie, my boy, do give me credit for using my powers of observation occasionally," protested Henry.

"So," said Jimmie, "then maybe you have used them far enough to tell me the name of the girl."

"I undoubtedly can," asserted Henry solemnly. "Stunted as my powers of observation may be, they have been sufficiently powerful to enable me to declare that the young lady in question is none other than Miss Preston."

This precedence was too much for Jimmie, who simply stared open mouthed at his chuckling tormentor.

"That's the worst of you close mouthed people," said he presently, with an air of deep disgust. "You sit around and don't say a word, and all the while you are keeping close tab on everything and everybody. Then when a fellow comes around to tell you a piece of important news you take the wind all out of his sails with your air of worldwide knowledge and consciousness of his most intimate thoughts. I must say that I think you might have pretended ignorance. Now, I'll just keep quiet about the matter." And Jimmie resolutely shut his mouth and turned again to his cigar.

"Now, Jimmie," said Walcott, with dignity, "don't be any more of a cheap than usual. You know you are so full of the subject that you have just got to talk. So fire away."

And Jimmie did fire away presently, the subject having got the better of his resolve.

"But, Henry, all natural prejudice aside, I just can't believe my good luck. To think that she should accept me when she might have had any man who, she might have married you, old chap, couldn't she?"

"Did she tell you so?"

"No," said Jimmie cheerfully, "but I can't see how it is that you haven't fallen in love with her." "Maybe I was in love with another woman," said Walcott slowly. "There was something in his tone that made Jimmie look up quickly. Walcott was gazing into the "oberflur," and there was such a smile upon his face as Jimmie had never seen. That natural youngster was on his feet in an instant and rushed over to Walcott.

"By Jove, old chap, so you have been indulging in a love affair and didn't even take me, your best friend, into your confidence! I call that a model of you, but I am deuced glad to know that you are in love, after all. Take my word for it, old chap, there's nothing like it in all the world."

"Easy, boy, easy," said Walcott, with a quiet smile that may have concealed some embarrassment. "I haven't confessed to any love affair yet. And as for confidences, remember that you told me nothing of yours until you were actually engaged. Even good friends like you and me don't talk over such affairs. However, I may have—I hope to have—some good news to tell you soon."

"How soon?"

"Who can say?"

"Have you proposed to her?"

"No, but I intend to do so."

"Good boy! Go in and win. If you want a certificate of good character call on me. I am always ready to tell a lie in the sacred cause of friendship."

And Jimmie's infectious laugh took all sting away from the remark.

Once more fell a period of silence and Jimmie broke it with:

"Did you ever notice the color of her eyes, Henry?"

"Yes," answered Henry, with an air of amusement. "They are blue, aren't they?"

"No, indeed," said Jimmie somewhat indignantly. "They are a wonderful deep gray, almost black."

"Is that so?" was the somewhat indignant reply. "Then she has the same color of eyes as her cousin. I know that she has wonderful, deep gray eyes—wonderful eyes!" This last was very soft.

"Not at all, stupid!" said Jimmie, vexed at so much stupidity. "Her cousin's eyes are blue. I'll be blessed if you ever observe anything!"

Jimmie himself was not observing anything, but was sitting with his gaze fixed on the heart of the flames and his mind lost in a happy reverie. He did not see his companion look up with a quick terror in his eyes and a face drawn with emotion, nor did he hear a question addressed to him. Indeed, Walcott's voice was very thick, and he hardly knew himself whether he had spoken the question aloud or merely in his anguished voice to himself.

"Then you are engaged to Kate Preston?" he finally managed to say, loud enough to make his companion hear.

"Certainly," said Jimmie in astonishment. "Who did you think I was engaged to—certainly not to Annie Preston?"

"I didn't know," said Walcott weakly. "So your mind reading wasn't so good after all!" exclaimed Jimmie in triumph. "Well, I must be going. No longer."

And he was gone.

For a long time Walcott sat before the fire, though his cigar went out unperceived and was not relit.

Then he slowly walked to his desk and took out a letter addressed in his own firm handwriting. Opening it, he stood in front of the fire and read it through twice. It was a proposal of marriage, simple straightforward and winning in its declaration of great love.

The letter fluttered first to the fire, and the envelope followed it, Walcott standing quietly to watch them burn. One might have read the address on the envelope even after it was caught by the flames, and that address was—"Miss Kate Preston."

Poor Students at Dublin.

When Oliver Goldsmith was struggling for his education at Trinity college, Dublin, his soul was harrowed by the mental duties he had to perform as a "stunt." Even today the term stunt is nearly synonymous with "poor student" at Dublin, but the labors in connection with the position are much less strenuous than they were formerly. The stunt received his "commons" and tuition free, in return for which he was expected to sweep out the courts in the morning and carry the dishes from the kitchen to the dining hall of the fellows of Trinity. These offices remained associated with the sturship for half a century after the author of the "Vicar of Wakefield" had entered the university and left it. They were abolished in a dramatic manner.

One Trinity Sunday there was a crowd to witness the ceremonies in the college. As a stunt passed by with a dish of meat for the fellows a saucy (stunt) of Dublin jeered at him as a stunt. The angry stunt flung the dish, meat and all, at the head of his tormentor. He was sharply reprimanded, perhaps because of the loss of the meat, but the stunts were never again asked to perform the duties which saddened the soul of Goldsmith while he was at the college.—Chicago News.

The Exact Thing Required for Constipation.

"As a certain purgative and stomach purifier Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough for the most robust, yet mild enough and safe for children and without that terrible griping so common to most purgatives," says R. S. Webster & Co., Ltd., Ontario, Canada. For sale by all druggists.

Animal Arithmetic.

A certain Mr. Thimblet was the happy possessor of a dog that was able to calculate with precision. One day, having been fed a large quantity of chicken bones he found twenty-six left over when his appetite was satisfied. Then he proceeded to bury carefully in different places, as all dogs do. The dog followed him and did so. He then went to down suddenly woke up, apparently with something on his mind, he trotted a moment, dug up his twenty-sixth bone, ate it and went to sleep, this time soundly.

Birds count well. They usually know the number of eggs they are hatching. Here is something odd. A half tamed nightingale was always given three beetles as a sort of dessert. If he received but two he waited impatiently for the third. If three were given to him he ate them up and flew away without waiting for more.—Beltne Rose.

Remedy For Burns.

For a dry burn, carbon oil. Shake the bottle, saturate a soft cloth with the mixture and lay over the burn. Then cover closely with cotton batting or dannel to keep out every bit of air and secure the whole with a light bandage.

Burns may also be treated by a thick application of any bland oil, vaseline, sweet oil, castor oil, butter, cold cream or any fat not rancid, excepting glycerine, which is too irritating. Soft poultices may also be dusted on—flour, lard or corn starch. For a burn by acid or steam apply a dressing of saturated soda.

Moan Phases.

The phases of the moon may be explained by the fact that the moon is a dark spherical body which shines only by reflected light. The new moon, popularly so called, is seen only when the sky is sufficiently dark to prevent a complete outline of the disk. This illumination is due to the light which comes first from the sun, is reflected to the earth and back to the moon and thence to the eye. What we really see is the earth light shining on the moon.

QUICK ARREST.

J. A. Gullidge, of Verbona, Ala., was twice in the hospital from a severe case of piles causing 21 tumors. After doctors and all remedies failed, Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly arrested further inflammation and cure of him. It conquers aches and kills pain. 50c at H. F. Vorkamp, Drug list.

It Cures Coughs, Sore Throats, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in its first stages and a sure relief in advanced stages. It is sold by all druggists and is the best remedy for all coughs. Kemp's Cough Balsam is sold by all druggists.

A Vegetable With a Pedigree.

Of all the plants used for food there is none which has been so long known or has had, so to say, so distinguished a lineage as asparagus. Its record, in fact, reaches back to almost the commencement of authentic history, as it is mentioned by the comic poet Cratinus, who died about 426 B. C., and was a contemporary of though slightly older than Aristophanes.

Among the Romans also the tasty vegetable was held in high esteem. Cato the elder—not the gentleman who was of opinion that Pliny reasoned well, but his great-grandfather, who lived upon the destruction of Carthage and who was born 234 B. C.—wrote a work, which is still extant, "De Re Rustica," and in it he treats at length of the virtues and proper cultivation of asparagus. Pliny also in his "Natural History" (about 60 A. D.) has much to say on the subject. "Of all the productions of your garden," he feelingly observes, "your chief care will be your asparagus," and he devotes several chapters and parts of chapters to its many beneficial qualities and the best modes of raising it.—Chambers' Journal.

Indian Mothers and Dolls.

When an Indian girl dies her mother often substitutes a doll for her lost little one. She fills the empty cradle with feathers, arranged in the form of the child, and carries this around with her wherever she goes, talking to it and caressing it as she would her loving child.

If she does not do this she ties in a tight bundle the toys, clothes and armlets which belonged to her little one and, fastening this to the cradle board, carries it as she had formerly done her child. The Ojibways call these "unlucky dolls," because they represent the dead.

The reason the Indian mother carries her "doll" in this pathetic way is because she thinks that the "little dead child" is too small to find its way to paradise. By substituting the doll it will help along until the dead baby has grown large enough to make its way to the spirit land alone. At least this is what the sad Indian mother believes.

Curious Ways of Crabs.

Certain species of crabs cover themselves with seaweed in order to deceive their foes. One crab was seen by the naturalist Eschscholtz in 1878 to pluck off zoophytes, those parasite animal colonies which grow on shells and stones, and to fix them on the spines and hairs of its shell. A still deeper romance of defensive tactics is to be found in the case of certain hermit crabs. They live in the castoff shells of whells and crawl about, house to house. One crab is bigger than the other, and this is an adaptive feature, for when the crab enters into its house the bigger claw is tucked across the mouth of the shell to bar the way against a possible intruder. More curious still is the habit of one species which toils along with a sea anemone fixed to its shell, like Sindbad carrying the Old Man of the sea. Great care is taken of this anemone. It is fed by the crab, and if the latter has to seek a new shell by reason of his growth he tenderly shifts his tenant off the old abode and places him on the new one.

Dean Hole's Wit.

On one occasion Dean Hole, the well known English clergyman, with Mrs. Hole, landed at Dover, much exhausted after a rough crossing of the English channel. While waiting for the train the dean pored over the railway regulations. "Ah," he said, addressing the station inspector, "it's one consolation after such a crossing and this tiresome wait that we go back at half price." "I don't understand, sir," was the official's reply. "There is no special reduction." "Oh, yes, there is," said the dean. "I've just been reading all your notices, and you state that you take returned empties at much reduced rate." Once when the dean was playing whist for threepenny points he appeared to be very well provided with threepenny bits. "Ah," his opponent remarked, "have you the offertory with you?" "What, sir," the dean answered, "do you recognize your miserable contributions?"

The Distant Stars.

Speaking roughly, we have reason, from the data so far available, to believe that the stars of the Milky Way are situated at a distance between 100,000,000 and 200,000,000 times the distance from the sun. At distances less than this it seems likely that the stars are distributed through space with some approach to uniformity. We may state as a general conclusion, indicated by several methods of making the estimate that nearly all the stars which we can see with our telescopes are contained within a sphere not likely to be much more than 200,000,000 times the distance of the sun.

Granting that all the stars we can see are contained within this limit, may there not be any number of stars without the limit which are invisible only because they are too far away to be seen?—Simon Newcomb in Harper's Magazine.

Too Easy Success.

Success in literature early in a writer's career is often a serious misfortune, writes James Chambers in the Pittsburgh Dispatch. I distinctly recall a conversation with Frank H. Stockton regarding "The Lady or the Tiger?" which illustrates this point. "Never was I so near starvation since I began to write as after the publication of 'The Lady or the Tiger?'" said Mr. Stockton. "For nearly two years everything I offered for sale was sent back with the curt explanation that it did not compare with that story. 'The Lady or the Tiger?' was made a standard by which everything was judged. Prior to its publication I had trouble in selling my matter, and that very story had been offered to every publisher in New York before it was accepted."

Women Speakers.

Women speak at table, when they retain their seats at table, the very fact that they are standing and facing their audience having a tendency to give the bravest of women stage fright. Women orators have the advantage over men in knowing that their attire will have much to do with keeping the attention of their audience. A pretty woman in a pretty gown, a fan, a muff, a jewel, will hold the eyes of the women listeners even if they do not care much for the speech.—What to Eat.

An Apt Retort.

In the biography of Dr. Hawtrey, a famous English schoolmaster, there is a description of his unkempt appearance, with a comment which has been greatly quoted. It is said that he was scolding for being late at morning lessons a boy, who replied that he had no time to dress. "But I can dress in time," said the doctor. "Yes," replied the boy, "but I wash."

Easy Politics.

"When you first entered politics," said the young man who is looking for knowledge, "did you set out with the determination to win at any cost?" "No," answered Senator Sorghum; "I set out with the determination to win at as little expense as possible."

Mistakes Men Make.

If it be true that a man who never makes mistakes never makes anything at all, it is equally true that an orator who never says an indiscreet thing may be confidently reckoned on never to say anything at all worth hearing.—London World.

Energy all gone? Headache? Stomach out of order? Simply a case of torpid liver. Burdock Blood Bitters will make a new man of woman of you.

Miss Whittaker, a prominent club woman of Savannah, Ga., tells how she was entirely cured of ovarian troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a Uterine Tonic and Regulator. I suffered for four years with irregularities and Uterine troubles. No one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental misery those evils who are thus afflicted. Your Vegetable Compound cured me within three months. I was fully restored to health and strength, and now my periods are regular and painless. What a blessing it is to be able to obtain such a remedy when so many doctors fail to help you. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had. Very truly yours, Miss EASY WHITTAKER, 604 39th St., W. Savannah, Ga."

No physician in the world has had such a training or such an amount of information at hand to assist in the treatment of all kinds of female ills as Mrs. Pinkham. In her office at Lynn, Mass., she is able to do more for the ailing women of America than the family physician. Any woman, therefore, is responsible for her own trouble who will not take the pains to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free.

A letter from another woman showing what was accomplished in her case by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women prove beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

Keeping In Touch With Oneself.

It's good to have money and the things that money will buy but it's good, too, to check up once in a while and make sure you haven't lost the things that money won't buy. When a fellow's got what he set out for in this world he should go off into the woods for a few weeks now and then to make sure he's still a man and not a pig and that a frog and a wad of bills.—Saturday Evening Post.

GOES

To Toledo to Serve a Term

In the Works

With Her Scant Raiment Supplemented

By a Man's Coat Which the Mayor Borrowed at the C. H. & D. Depot.

Bessie Murphy to Serve Out a Sentence That Had Been Suspended During Her Good Behavior—Police News.

Mayor Robb assumed the role of a policeman today and departed for Toledo on a morning C. H. & D.
train with a prisoner bound for the Toledo work house occupying a seat in the same train. The mayor had occasion to visit the Lucas county capitol and having a female prisoner at the police station who had a work house sentence to be served, he decided to save an officer a trip and took the prisoner with him.

The mayor's prisoner was Bessie Murphy, a young and wayward girl who was arrested several weeks ago and sentenced to pay a fine of $10
and costs and to serve a term of 30 days imprisonment in the work house.
The sentence was suspended during her good behavior and she was out of the city for some time but returned a few days ago and was again taken into custody last night. Upon reaching the C. H. & D. depot this morning, the mayor noticed that his prisoner was very scantily attired. She had no wrap of any kind and the shirtwaist she wore was badly torn.
Judge Robb asked ticket agent Frank Burkhardt if he didn't have an old wrap of some kind about the depot and the latter, making a search, found a blue serge sack coat or his own which had done service a couple of summers. This was gratefully received by Bessie and it fitted her plump figure admirably. She strutted up and down the platform while the mayor eyed her approvingly and remarked: "I'm not ashamed of her now."

Penny Man Here.
Conductor W. A. Curran, of the P.
H. & C. against whom General manager J. A. Bendure of the local street railway lines filed a complaint
in the blocking of a street crossing, came over from it today to appear before the mayor. He stated that he would not fight the case but said that the conditions were such at the time the crossing was blocked that he could not relieve the situation any sooner than he did.

Conductor Al Betters, of the C. H.
& D. appeared before the mayor day before yesterday and paid a fine of $5.00 for a similar offense at the Market street crossing.

NOVELTY

Is Offered in Basket Ball Contest.

Two Teams of Young Ladies Will Play at the Auditorium Tomorrow Evening.

For the first time in the history of basket ball, Lima enthusiasts will be given an opportunity tomorrow evening of witnessing an interesting contest between two teams composed of the young ladies of the high school who were organized under the direction of Miss McCoy, a member of the faculty.

The representative team will play against a squad composed of those who have been engaged in practice and there is sure to be a large audience present to witness what is a novelty in Lima.

Basket ball has leaped into popular favor all over the country, and Kenton and Sidney last year had a series of games between the young ladies which aroused considerable rivalry.

GIRLS WILL PLAY.

the auditorium, Friday night. Danc-

TRIAL

Trip Taken This Morning

By the First

Of the New Engines
From Pittsburgh.

Engineer Greenland and Fireman Minaugh Manned
the Big Mogul.

No. 344 Hitched to a Light Freight Train and Whisked Off to Toledo. Eight More to Follow.

Seven of the new big Pittsburgh engines have arrived at the C. H. & D.
shops and two more will follow, much to the relief of the motive power department which has resorted to means almost beyond human ingenuity to keep things moving. The dark days are passing now however, and the slow moving tons of freight will soon be swishing along over this division at a rate that will bring good cheer to the official family.

The first one of the engines to see service was the 344, which was taken out with a light freight train billed to Toledo at 10 o'clock this morning.
Harry Greenland was the engineer of the hour and steamed out of the round house into the yards with evident pleasure, while machinists and hostlers watched the big mogul with a critical eye. Phil Minaugh, one of the new firemen, took the left side and Greenland was satisfied that he would have steam enough for all purposes.

The new engines are too long for the old turn-table with tender attached, which causes an inconvenience, as they will have to be turned about in sections or sent over to the Lake Erie & Western where a modern turntable was established not long ago. Foreman Ira Beebe said this morning that no arrangement for such service had as yet been made, however.

It requires from 12 to 14 hours to assemble one of the engines and prepare it for road service, and when the 344 took her departure this morning, a force of mechanics were at work on the 345 and 346, occupying stalls in the round house.

TWO SECTIONS

Of a C. H. & D. Freight Train Crash
Together Near Botkins.

The C. H. & D. wreck crew was called out yesterday evening to take care of a bad smash up south of Botkins, caused by a freight train breaking in two and then coming together with a crash that broke up six cars and seriously blocked the road bed.
The train was fifth 91, but as details of trouble on the south end do not come to Lima, little could be learned of the damage. The crew escaped without injury.

THE IDLER.

Members of Lima Council 436
Knights of Columbus, will leave over the Western Ohio tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock on a special car for St.
Marys to attend the funeral of their late brother, Judge Wm T. Mooney.

For several weeks this city has been flooded, and the whole country for that matter, with circular letters issued to stockholders by rival interests in a local oil company that has had many legal complications, both sides seeking control of the organization. Some of these productions are literary gems that rival the vituperative writings of Brann, late publisher of the Iconoclast.

This company has its annual meeting next Monday in this city, and if the heat of battle with pen and tongue lasts until that time without someone dying with his boots on,
there will be something worthy of comment.

Dr. J. H. Blattenberg, V. S., is moving his office into the room two doors
south of the former location on north Union street.

Will McDonald formerly of the Buckeye Pipe Line office, left last night for Pittsburgh, where he will accept a new position.

SECRETARY

Of the Ohio Federation of Churches

In Lima This Week Preparing For Meeting Here Dec. 6 and Arranging Program.

Rev. D. R. Miller, of St. Marys, O., secretary of the body, has been in the city during the week, perfecting arrangements for the meeting of the Ohio Federation of Churches, which is to be held in the Congregational church of this city, Tuesday, December 6. Programs printed announced the meeting to be held at Market street Presbyterian church, but the occupancy of that edifice by the builders placing in position the new organ, prevent that church being used on the date mentioned. The Federation of Churches aims at a closer co-operation between the churches of the state in their work and at the solution of the hard problems always facing the religious worker. It especially seeks to eliminate all unnecessary competition and expenditure from church operations.
The full programme of the coming meeting will be published later. The federation delegates pay their own expenses and provide for their own entertainment. There will be from fifty to one hundred representatives of the churches of Ohio in attendance to whom the ladies' missionary society of Market street church will furnish luncheon and dinner in the basement of the Market street Presbyterian church. The opening address will be delivered at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, Dec. 6th, by the president of the federation, Rev. W.
O. Thompson, D. D., president of Ohio State University, whose address recently in this city stirred great enthusiasm. There will also be an address by Rev. E. B. Sanford D. D., of New York city, general secretary of the National Federation of Churches.
Tuesday evening at 7:30. The meetings, which are of a high order in intellectually and spiritually, are freely
open to the public, and it is desired that there may be a general attendance of our citizens.

Barn Destroyed by Fire In

Mayor Burkhardt, of Cridersville, the Loser But Carried Insurance.

C. W. Burkhardt, a brother of Passenger Agent Frank Burkhardt, of the C. H. & D., and L. E. & W., lost a valuable barn by fire Tuesday evening
but neighbors arrived in time to save the house and rescue the live stock,
of which there was considerable.

For a time it looked as though the whole country round about would be swept by a conflagration. The wind blew the flames in great sheets across the fields, burning up considerable dry fodder and fences. The direction of the wind saved Mr. Burkhardt's home and other buildings, but the barn, which was one of the largest in the county, is a total loss. It was valued at $2,000, and well insured.

Mr. Burkhardt, who is Mayor of Cridersville, lives about a mile and a half from the town, but at the time of the fire was in Lima on business.
The fire was seen for miles and farmers came from every direction to assist in getting it under control.
Over a hundred rigs of every description were hitched to the fence at a safe distance and the owners formed

A POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes, "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world."

H. F. Vortkamp and Wm. Melville.

The crook who dares to "tie into"
policeman Dan Kelly now will ser-tainly have to "step some" for Dan is the biggest man on the police force.
This is conceded by every member of the department but at the same time there's a little gossip on north Main street who can make Dan step about "some." He arrived at the Kelly residence yesterday morning and tips the scales to a good 9 pounds.

Bee's Honey and Tar is different from all other remedies offered for the relief of cough, lung and bronchial troubles. It contains antiseptic properties that destroy the germs, and solvent properties that cut the phlegm allowing it to be thrown off, moves the bowels gently. Cures croup, whooping cough and colds in one night. H. F. Vortkamp, druggist.

JACKIE ANTICIPATED COMING OF FORTUNE.

A Jack tar who died recently in the sea, and whose body was recovered, I will not mention, Pa. left a will, unique in expression as well as substance, which has been admitted to probate there. The testator was Richard Bell, a seafaring man and the sole legatee J. Howard Johnson, who had been harboring him for the past six years. The amount of tangible property is small in comparison with the amount in prospect if the legatee succeeds in getting $1,000,000 out of certain estates in Baltimore. The testament reads as follows:

Article of Agreement. This agreement between Richard Bell, also known as Richard Bell, late a ship's yeoman, United States Navy, and J. Howard Johnson, of Collegeville, Montgomery county, Pa., witnesses that between them it has been agreed as follows:

A MILLION — ON PAPER. Their names, as J. Richard Bell, am the lawful and only living son of Anne Bradley Bell and Thomas Bell, said Anne Bradley Bell may mother, being the daughter and only legitimate child of Thomas Bradley, who was a sea captain, who died at Baltimore, Md., U. S. A., leaving an estate of $1,000,000 in that city (wide statement for particulars). She had but one brother who never married, and who died without issue. No other lawful issue existed.

Agreement with J. Howard Johnson: I Richard Bell, agree with J. Howard Johnson that if he represents me and proceed to investigate the matter in question, and if said proper

THE COAL FIELDS OF CAPE LISBURNE, ALASKA.

Near Cape Lisburne, which is on the Arctic coast of Alaska, 300 miles north of the Arctic Circle, are two coal bearing formations of economic importance. They were studied during the past summer by Mr. Arthur J. Collier, of the United States Geological Survey, who, assisted by Mr. Chester Washburn, made his way in an open dory along that distant shore as far east as Cape Beaufort. The wind in that quarter of the earth blows everything with cyclonic force straight out to sea every day in the year except those days when, for a change, it tears down from the North Pole, blowing everything far inland. Putting to sea in an open boat might seem like tempting fate in that latitude, but the Survey men found it the most practicable way of studying the formations exposed along the coast. Coming south they were taken up by the United States revenue cutter Thetis, the captain of which did everything in his power to facilitate their work.

Of the two coal-bearing formations, one, which lies east of Cape Lisburne, is of Jurassic or Lower Cretaceous age, and the other, which lies south of Cape Lisburne, is either Lower Carboniferous or Devonian. The Mesozoic coal-bearing formation, which has been known for the last three-quarters of a century, commences at a point 25 miles east of Cape Lisburne and is continuously exposed along the coast to Cape Beaufort, a distance of 40 miles. It contains the well-known Corwin and Thetis mines, the location of which has been shown on many recent maps of Alaska.

Geologic study shows that the coal measures of these fields have a total thickness of at least 15,000 feet and contain not less than 40 beds of coal, each over a foot thick. The aggregate thickness of all the beds seen by Mr. Collier is over 150 feet. Eleven of them are more than 4 feet thick and contain coal of good quality. Analysis of samples from some of the beds shows the product to be low-grade bituminous coal. A limited amount of coal has been mined here since 1879 for whalers and revenue cutters. Several cargoes were mined in 1901 and sold at Nome markets for $18 and $20 a ton in competition with Comox and Washington coal at $25 a ton.

None of the coal beds has been permanently developed. The coal produced was mined from the outcroppings along the sea cliff and boated off to the ships through the surf. There is no harbor for vessels nor protection from any but south winds. In 1902 a small amount of coal probably not exceeding 20 or 30 tons, was produced at the Corwin mine. In 1903 about 20 tons were taken by the steamship Corwin and about 10 more tons were mined for consumption at the Point Hope whaling station.

The Paleozoic coal outcrop at three points along the coast, 4, 8, and

COLLEGE BUILDING.

New York, World.—Andrew Carnegie has assured Pittsburgh people that if they are really desirous of having a university which shall beat anything in the country he will help.

Imagination falters when it attempts to picture the struggle that must follow among the philanthropists when such a peacemaker starts in the school-making race. Fancy the scene at the Millionaires' club five years from now when Mr. Carnegie will come swinging jauntily into the room with his golf clubs under his arm.

"Well John," he will say, "I have just added 200 acres to the Pittsburgh campus and deposited $5,000,000 in steel bonds as endowment to provide gymnasium facilities."

Mr. Rockefeller will rub his hands in glee and say: "Too late, Andrew. Very good in its way, but antiquated. I have just bought Lake Michigan for the University of Chicago, for its crews to practice on. All out at Sault Ste Marie hereafter."

Mr. Vanderbilt will look up from his paper and remark casually: "I might say that the family has just purchased all the land within two miles of the Yale campus, and will cover it with dormitories."

Mr. Vanderbilt will say this very modestly, but with a gleam of triumph in his eye. But, "Ah!" he will exclaim, as he approaches the door: "Boy, bring my check book! Gentlemen, Mrs. Stanford has just bought the Sierra Nevada mountains for the school of forestry of the Leland Stanford, Jr., university."

The three rich men will pale at this announcement.

"There's one thing left to do!" they will cry in chorus. "Raise the professors' salaries. We must stay at it!"

"I give an annual income of $100,000 to raise the professors' salaries," one of the millionaires will blurt out. A college professor who happens to be a guest of the club that evening will be carried out fainting.

HE COULD HARDLY GET UP.

"This is to certify that I have taken two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine," writes P. H. Duff, of Ashby, Ill. "I tried many advertised remedies, but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it cured me. Before commencing its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down." H. F. Vorkamp and W. M. Melville.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards, of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. Where was the Harm?

"Here sir!" shouted Poppley at his seven-year-old, "take that cigar stump out of your mouth. How dare you?" "Why, when you throwed it away I thought you was done with it," replied the youngster with a surprised air.—Pilgrim

Courage is a Matter of the Blood.

Without good blood a man has weak heart and poor nerves. Anemia means thinness. It is common in men and young women and all those who work outdoors and who do not get enough outdoor air and good oxygen in their lungs. There are too many white blood corpuscles in such cases, and there is often a peculiar sound in the heart, called a murmur in case of anemia. This heart murmur is caused by thinness of the blood passing through the heart. The nutrients of anemia disappear when the blood regains its natural consistency and richness. It is not heart disease. Sometimes people suffer intense pain over the stomach. It is the occasion of much anxiety, alarm and suffering, for such people are dependent upon reflex action. In the same way many bad coughs are dependent upon these reflex disturbances of what is called the pneumogastric nerve. To enrich the blood and increase the red blood corpuscles thereby feeding the nerves on rich red blood and doing away with the irritability, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which promotes digestion and assimilation of food so that the blood gets its proper supply of nutriment from the stomach. Get as near to nature's way as you can. A medicine made entirely of botanical elements which does not contain alcohol is the safest. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best liver pills.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs, and do no earthly good. Hair, when it is healthy, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and so far the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide, absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It always itching instantly, makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Dandruff," because, you remove the effect." Sold in leading druggists. Send 10c in stamp for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Deadly Parallel Shows Up the Gazette's News Gathering Methods

In an Effort to Keep Pace With the Superior Service of the Times-Democrat—Some Recent Blunders and Apologies.

The Times-Democrat, with undeniable patience, has withstood the long and continuous practice on the part of the Gazette, of journalistic thievery, but patience is a virtue that might be trampled on with impunity and cease to be such when it comes to the point of rubbing it in. Especially has the proof of second-hand news come to light in the Gazette, morning after morning, in regard to affairs on the local railroads, and the Times-Democrat is able to produce a sample of it today in a parallel column that is sufficiently deadly to brook no dispute.

Another noticeable feature in the efforts of the morning trailer to keep abreast of railroad news, is the long list of palpable blunders made in keeping tabs of the changes occurring on the C. H. & D. under the new management. Not in a single instance has the railroad reporter of the Gazette been able to say, "I told you so." Every prediction, if he even ventured so far as to make one of importance, has been followed the next day with a correction or an apology. It has been guess work of the crudest kind and doesn't go down well with those who have been directly concerned in the supposed official outline.

The Gazette devoted a column to the resignation of Supt. Floeter when the latter was absent and couldn't be interviewed. The following day the Times-Democrat was the first paper in the country to announce the retirement of General Superintendent Turner, his successor as Mr. Gordon, of Dayton, and the appointment of Mr. Floeter to succeed Mr. Gordon. The Gazette then apologized, and remarked that it "now comes from a reliable source, not to be disputed, that Mr. Floeter had gained rather than lost by the change." The reliable authority referred to was the Times-Democrat, and for once the Gazette made a correct statement.

In big headlines the Gazette next named Mr. Reel as trainmaster at this point, and another correction followed, when it was made known that J. A. Scott, of Dayton, had been selected. The Gazette followed the Times in the announcement of Master Mechanic White's resignation, and then had to apologize to his clerical force for stating that the boys were nervous over the prospect of losing their jobs. Connected with the apology a card, signed by Mr. White, taking exceptions to the statement, was published.

The Times-Democrat announced the establishment of a night yard crew for the Pennsylvania at Lima, and the Gazette trailed with it the following day. Two weeks ago, or, to be more exact, Friday, October 21, the railroad reporter of the Times-Democrat was told at official headquarters of the surprising amount of traffic being enjoyed by the C. H. & D., on account of the cultivation of sugar beets along the north division. This morning the Gazette prints the same article, word for word, and to convince the public that the Times, on railroad news as in everything else, is about that far ahead of the Trailer, the two articles stand side by side as a comparison of only one instance of almost daily occurrence.

(Times-Democrat, Oct. 21.) One of the principal sources of traffic enjoyed by the C. H. & D., on the north end is but little known to the public, and yet the company, by the close of the season, will have handled in the neighborhood of 3,000 car loads of sugar beets, the entire product being raised in the vicinity of Deshler and nearby points.

So voluminous has the business grown that there is to be an elevator erected at Deshler to facilitate the handling of the annual crop which has been a great success this year. Orders have been received for as high as twenty gondola cars a day and the company is finding no little trouble in furnishing the necessary number. It is a common sight now to see a long train of cars loaded to the limit with monster beets, consigned to the big factories at Mt. Clemens, Mich., and Fremont, O. They are scooped from wagons into open cars and payment is made at the factories at so much per ton.

The soil north of Lima seems to be admirably suited for the raising of a crop which stands the chemical test, and the crop pays a much larger per cent. than corn or the other cereals.

(Republican-Gazette, Nov. 1.) One of the principal resources of traffic, enjoyed by the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad on the northern end is but little known to the public, and yet the company, by the end of the season, will have handled in the neighborhood of 3,000 car loads of sugar beets, the entire product being raised in this vicinity and at Deshler and nearby points. The business has reached such a volume that an elevator will be erected in Deshler to facilitate the handling of the annual crop, which has been a big success this year. Orders have been received for as high as 20 gondola cars a day and the company is finding no little trouble in furnishing the necessary number. It is a common sight to see a long train of cars loaded to the limit with monster beets, consigned to the big factories in Mt. Clemens, Mich., and Fremont, O. They are scooped from wagons into open cars and payment is made at the factories at so much per ton. The soil of this part of the state seems to be admirably suited for the raising of the beet, which stands the chemical test and the crop pays a much larger per cent. than corn or other cereals. The finest of granulated sugar is made from the beet.

HE COULD HARDLY GET UP. "This is to certify that I have taken two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine," writes F. H. Duff, of Ashley, Ill. "I tried many advertised remedies, but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before commencing its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down."

Husband Died

In the State Hospital at Toledo.

Thomas Robinson, of 318 East Kibby Street, is No More.

A Rumored Wedding, A Pair of Hunting Stories, Pedro Party and Personal Mentions—Notes.

Sorrow two-fold has cast a shadow of gloom over the Robinson home, on East Kibby street, and two members of the family have passed to the great beyond.

Tuesday evening a message was received by Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, announcing the death of her husband's mother, Mrs. Mary Robinson, at Ottawa, from heart trouble.

Yesterday, while making preparations to attend her mother-in-law's funeral, Mrs. Robinson received another message bearing the sad news of her husband's death, at the state hospital at Toledo.

The husband, Thomas Robinson, was about 58 years old, and had been an inmate of the hospital since the third of last August. He is survived by the wife and five children—Misses Nettie, Mary and Emma, of this city; Harvey Robinson, of St. Louis, and Owen Robinson, of Philadelphia.

The funeral of mother and son will be held tomorrow morning at Ottawa. Couldn't Stand Pressure.

Bessie Murphy, was arrested again last night, by officer Grant, and today goes to the Toledo work house to serve a thirty day and $10 and cost sentence recently suspended by the mayor pending good behavior. She couldn't stay away from wine rooms.

Got Big Game. Charles Mooney and Elmer Barth went hunting yesterday, and according to their report, were very successful. They brought home four quail and part of another that had been shot at by both, a rabbit and a calf.

Charles Doute tells a good one on his father. They went rabbit hunting the other day, and the old gentleman scared up a bunny, and ran after it shouting: "Here's one, Charley. There it goes."

"Well, why don't you shoot it?" said the son. "What are you carrying that gun on your shoulder for?" "Gee, whiz!" exclaimed the father, "I thought I was carrying my shovel."

The rabbit got away.

Pedro Party. Last evening about twenty-five persons called at the Jacob Rise home, on west Kibby street, and after spending an hour or so at progressive pedro, were treated to a fine oyster supper. The event was most enjoyable one.

Rumored Wedding. If reports are to be relied upon, one of south Lima's gentlemen has deserted the "Bouma to be a bachelor" (3 1/2) club, and is now enjoying matrimonial bliss. The gentleman who rumor says has acted so wisely is Mr. Frank Pink, of south Elizabeth street, and the bride is a Detroit belle.

Personal Briefs. Charles Clark, of Dayton, visited his mother, Mrs. Minerva Clark, on west Kibby street, yesterday. Mrs. Ed. Blank and children, of east Linden street, left last evening for Florida, to spend the winter. John Gorham, of west Kibby street is being visited by William Smith, of Celina.

Mrs. George Daniels, of south West street, is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Jacob Fetter, of Butler, Ind.

The "closed indefinitely" sign has been taken from the door of the south side bank. All you can see now is furniture and an electric light.

The sidewalks on both sides of the Main street bridge are in very bad shape—rotten boards, holes large enough for a child to break a leg in and blocks nailed down in such a manner as to cause many to stub their toes. Prompt attention to the defects may save the city a damage suit, as there are plenty of people looking for easy money.

Haven't heard of any south side people guessing correctly on the Ohio vote—1,025,229. J. F. Drennan only missed it 6,000, but he is not shaking hands with himself.

Mrs. Mary Mell, of east Vine street, is entertaining her sister, Mrs. James Hooper, husband and children, of Plain City.

Today Mrs. Polly Somerset, of Van Wert, was buried. She was a sister of Mrs. Thomas Bell, of Greenlawn avenue.

Gracie J. D. Austin and wife, have returned from Tennessee and Alabama points, where they visited the past three weeks.

Mr. L. E. Roberts, fireman on the L. E. & W. and Mrs. Roberts, have given up boarding and are now in a cozy home of their own at 924 Tanner avenue.

It takes a severe matrimonial frost to kill the orange blossoms used in making Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, tea or tablets. H. F. Vorkamp.

COLORS

That Distinguish the Two Factions

Are the Purple and Gold of the Y. M. C. A.

Japs and Russians of the "Get Two" Club Are Having a Little War on Benevolent Lines.

If he wears a yellow ribbon in his button hole, he's a Jap; if the ribbon is purple, he's a Russian, and the combination of colors is the gold and purple, emblematic of the Y. M. C. A. Contrary to history that is being made every day in the far East, the Japs and Russians of Lima are on the friendliest terms, but are storming each other's fortifications in the interest of the "Get Two" club.

Every two weeks, on Tuesday evening, the factions get together in the Y. M. C. A. banquet hall, and under their respective generals compare notes on the advance or retreat of the opposing armies. Last Tuesday, the Japs were present in much greater numbers, and could easily have stormed the crumbling forts of Port Arthur, but the line of attack is of a less strenuous nature. Defeat of either side depends entirely on which of the contending factions succeeds in securing the largest number of new recruits between now and the first of the year.

A comparison of the last two weeks finds the Russians more than holding their own, and after a luncheon of mush and milk, sandwiches, cake and coffee, the two battalions separated and laid plans for an even more aggressive campaign. Both generals have sent out advance scouts and before the next session, one week from Tuesday, the Get Two club will have increased its membership at the expense of either the Japs or Russians.

When the final accounting is made no defeated side is in duty bound to provide a supper for the victors and further do the honors by serving it. In the meantime, the work in which both factions are united is being carried on to the good of the institution, and will do much toward the membership thermometer to the 1500 mark.

FOUND

Dead in Bed at His Home.

Lawyer Takes

His Own Life by the Gas Route.

Alleged Suicide Attributed To Ill Health and Trouble In Money Matters.

Graduate of Princeton and Son of Prominent New Yorker, Was Planning Railroad Deal at Time of Death.

New York, Dec. 1.—Franklyn Paddock, a lawyer was found dead in bed at his home today, having been asphyxiated by illuminating gas, and it is believed that he committed suicide. The circumstances leading up to the act were unusual. The dead man went to his home last night and found that his wife was not there, she having gone out several hours earlier. He waited for a time, but as she did not return, he went to his room, leaving his dinner untouched on the table. That was the last seen of him until his body was found today. A servant in the house said that Mr. Paddock had had some serious business trouble and that perhaps that was the cause of self destruction. Mr. Paddock was the son of a well known lawyer of this city. He graduated from Princeton in the class of 1890. About a year and a half ago he formed a law partnership with James Sterna under the name of Sterns & Paddock. Mr. Paddock, although said to be in feeble health was at his office until six o'clock on Wednesday evening. He was planning a railroad deal and had said that he expected to go to Pittsburgh in a few days in connection with that matter.

Let's laugh and be jolly! Drive away the blues! Hal Stephens and Harry Linton's company are coming to Faurout on Saturday afternoon and evening with the big comedy success of this season, "My Wife's Family."

The press agent says it is awfully funny. People do not always believe what the press agent has to say, but all reports from Toledo, Detroit, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Chicago and other large places speak in the highest terms of the stars and their capable company. Their songs are all new, the music is catchy and pretty, the women are young and handsome, the dancing was arranged by a master, and the costumes are all special as well as the scenery. In fact there has been nothing overlooked to make Stephens and Linton's company one of the most enjoyable afternoon and evening's entertainment to be seen this season.

PITTSBURG BROKERS BROKE.

Richmond & Co. Quit Business. State They Are Financially Embarrassed.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 1.—Richmond & Co., incorporated, local brokers, closed their doors today and issued the following notice to their customers:

"On account of financial embarrassment no further business will be transacted by this company until further notice."

"Richmond & Co., incorporated."

Bert R. Frankner, manager, was not at the office, which was in charge of clerks and no statement could be obtained.

The firm of Richmond & Co. has large offices at Buffalo and in addition to their Pittsburg headquarters have scores of correspondents situated in many of the small cities and town in New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland and Canada. It is understood that the firm probably did the largest trade of its kind between New York and Chicago. In the talk of the "street" the place was known as a "bucket shop."

THE STAGE.

"THE HOOSIER GIRL"

A Great Play. A Play That is Cheered. A Play That Will Live Forever.

Conventionality in play-building thrown to the winds, away from the beaten path; no wronged heroine, no mortgaged farm, no snow storm, no threshing machine, no husking bee, but an absolutely new, original and up-to-date theme; sturdy characters that are a delight to behold, their portrayals so utterly untheatrical and artistic, so true in every tone and gesture that the total effect is a continuous performance of jollity and joy. The Hoosier Girl will be at the Faurout tonight.

Sherlock Holmes, the central figure of "The Sign of the Four", which comes to the Faurout opera house tomorrow night has been enthusiastically received by the theatre-going public this season. As played by Walter Edwards the figure of the greatest detective of any age stands forth in brilliant prominence. Sherlock Holmes the wonderful, is a figure of distinction in the drama.

Metropolitan critics who have watched Walter Edwards play the part, have unanimously proclaimed his successful interpretation of the role. He possesses the faculty of getting all that there is out of the part and when one takes into consideration the brilliancy of the character, the fullness of such a statement is appreciated.

Let's laugh and be jolly! Drive away the blues! Hal Stephens and Harry Linton's company are coming to Faurout on Saturday afternoon and evening with the big comedy success of this season, "My Wife's Family."

ABOUT PEOPLE.

New York has seven surviving ex-mayors—Gilroy, Ely, Grant, Van Wyck, Cooper, Edison and Low, and Philadelphia has but three—Smith, Warlick and Ashbridge.

Don Carlos, king of Portugal, has life insurance amounting to about $3,000,000 in American money.

The Baroness Burdett-Couts, now over 90 years old, is still in excellent health and maintains the wonderful poise which has always been one of her leading characteristics. Like Gladstone, she is able to sleep almost at will, and declares that in all her long life she has never lost even part of a night's sleep.

President Faunce, of Brown university, is making an extended tour of Missouri and Texas, delivering addresses at various colleges and conventions.

Major Austin S. Cushman, who was private secretary to President Millard Fillmore, is at present living in New Bedford, Mass. He was the first photographer ever employed to assist a chief executive of the United States.

In accordance with Lady Stanley's wish that a monolith should mark the burial place of the great explorer, the Art Memorial company of orwood, England, has after much searching found such a stone.

ANXIOUS MOMENTS. Some of the most anxious hours of a mother's life are those when the little ones of the household have the croup. There is no other medicine so effective in this terrible malady as Foley's Honey and Tar. It is a household favorite for throat and lung troubles, and as it contains no opiates or other poisons it can be safely given.

WAR

On the Far East's Social Life

Is the Theme

Presented By a Student of Conditions.

Strong Address Delivered by E. T. Colton, Y. M. C. A. International Secy.

Lima Institution Is Contributing to the Support of One of the Active Secretaries in the Foreign Field.

At a 6 o'clock supper given in honor of E. T. Colton, International Secretary, at the Y. M. C. A. last night, about fifty of Lima's representative citizens and young men were present. Today everyone of those fortunate enough to enjoy the occasion, sing the praises of the magnetic young speaker, whose wide experience in the work of the foreign field has fitted him with an argument strong and convincing. History does not unfold the facts that have been gathered by Mr. Colton, through personal contact with the cosmopolitan horde that infest the yellow seas, and so startling were some of his assertions that were it not for indisputable evidence delivered by one who is beyond cavil, doubt as to genuineness of the situation might be excusable.

After a supper with a menu of oyster soup, cream potatoes, sandwiches, cake and coffee there followed a mental feast equally as appealing. A. D. Hildreth presided and briefly introduced the guest of honor. The object of his presence was to later make known to the secretaries, such proportion as the Lima Association felt able to pay. Cards were distributed at the table and of the $100 hoped to be raised, over half the amount was at once contributed. The balance will be obtained with but little trouble and Lima will have the satisfaction of at least helping in a small way toward the important work set out in Mr. Colton's strong appeal.

The speaker's address was not made on bended knee; it was not a stereotyped form of begging. He relied on the effect that would follow a plain, but vivid statement of facts, and thus he put it.

'Let us have done forever tonight with thinking about the far East as lands of straw huts, and naked savages and famines. India stands fifth among the nations of the world in railway mileage. Two Trans-Asiatic lines are now being projected, one to connect Calcutta and Shanghai, the other of Hong Kong and St. Petersburg. The longest railway in the world today has for its terminus St. Petersburg and Peking. The largest steam boats now in process of construction are to ply, not between Hamburg, Liverpool and New York, but between Vancouver, Seattle, San Francisco and Shanghai, Yokohama and Hong Kong. Shanghai already has a larger export trade than Boston, and Osaka with 240 banks and wire factories, invites to her recently completed $12,000,000 harbor, the merchant ships of the world. But I propose tonight a more significant question than whose merchants shall grow rich on the trade of the East, and a greater one than what nations shall gain increased percentage through the diplomacy of the East; although as an American citizen who loves his country, I am not indifferent to those issues. The greatest issue is, shall the civilization of the East which is now rapidly undergoing social and commercial reorganization be ruled 'By God or by Mammon.'

'He is false to the lessons of his story who regards this issue a matter to concern only the Chinaman, the Japanese and the East Indian. The issue concerns every American fire side.

'Around the Yellow Sea there is now being enacted the final drama of civilization so wide in its significance, that the historic minglings of civilizations like the Greeks and Romans, and the Romans and Poles seem of minor importance in their relation to the life of the world; for here, we have not two nations, but all the nations of the world offering their contribution toward what must be the limit civilization of mankind. We may shut out the Yellow Peril from our Western shores, but we can not keep out of the far East the brightest of our young men who go out by thousands annually to represent us in diplomatic and commercial positions. Nor can we prevent the certain flow of the tide back to America bringing with it Oriental morals and institutions. If any man doubts the part which the far East is to play in the civilization of the world, let him be reminded when he picks up his paper tomorrow morning and finds more space devoted to news from that section of the world than from any other, that it has been receiving this preponderant attention for the past four years, and that there is every reason to expect it to increase rather than to abate.

'The Young Men's Christian Associations of North America are unwilling that American civilization shall be misrepresented in the far East, by having only the commercial and political currents of our life among their contributions to that part of the world. They recognize the right of the young men of India, China and Japan to have the knowledge and service of the institution which has meant so much to the moral and social life of the young men of this favored land. They are accordingly planting at the great capitals, port cities and student centers of the non-Christian world, Y. M. C. A's, built after the North American model, by sending out trained secretaries whose high calling it is to guide these associations, and in their development hold them true to the great principles of American Brotherhood. They have already sent out about forty men, distributed as follows: 6 in Japan; 9 in China; 1 in Korea; 2 in Hong Kong; 14 in India; 1 in Ceylon; 1 in Havana; 2 each in Mexico, Argentina and Brazil. Let us not forget that these men have been sent out by the most useful, conservative and best managed Associations in America, including, Cleveland, Scranton, Buffalo, Trenton, Washington, Dayton, Youngstown, Omaha, Portland and Montreal.

'The perfectly natural question that arises at this point is, "Why have these associations entered upon such a policy?" In reply it should be said that they have entered upon this policy first, at the call of the missionaries. No secretary ever has been or will be sent to a foreign post until there has first come a unanimous call from all of the missionaries who work in that given field. For the lack of men and money more of these calls have had to be denied than granted, but so that the associations are still far behind the call and judgment of this best qualified class of men who see things from the Christian standpoint.

'Another class of men who have a right to be heard on this question are the representatives of the Christian governments in those countries like Ex-Minister Burk, American Ambassador to Tokio, Minister Barrett, formerly of China now of Panama,

Mr. Halford formerly private secretary to President Harrison, more recently one of the most important representatives of the United States in the Philippines; and representing the British Government, men like the Colonial Secretary for Hong Kong and the Lieutenant Governor of the Presidency of Bengal, both of whom are Presidents of the Associations in their respective cities.

'Equally strong approval has come from the officials of the countries in question including in Japan, the Minister of War; The Minister of the Navy; The Minister of Education, The Ex-Postmaster General and the man who for four terms in succession was made Speaker of the Imperial Diet.

'If any additional demonstration were needed of the unusual opportunities before the Associations in these countries, it would be found in the actual achievements of the work in the brief time it has been under way. Seven years ago supported by the Cleveland Association a secretary was sent to Shanghai, who is now assisted by Mr. Arthur Rugh, who is supported by a group of Ohio Associations, including the Lima Association.

'The Shanghai membership now exceeds 1000. Last year there were 156 men and 42 boys in bible study classes, 5-6 of whom were not Christians. Forty men have been added to the churches of Shanghai as a result of a single year's work. Aside from the salaries of the American Secretaries which are paid in America in order that they may have entire freedom of initiative, the Shanghai Association like all the others is entirely self supporting, and raises a budget of nearly $10,000. Confucian Chinese merchants have given $25,000 with which to purchase ground for the erection of the $50,000 building for the Chinese branch of the Shanghai Association. As many men were turned away from the educational classes last fall as were admitted on account of the taxing of their building space to the limit. I cannot close without mentioning in this connection that the local Association in Lima is to be congratulated on the field for its operations in the Orient.—Shanghai—and also upon having such a representative as Arthur Rugh to work in that city of enormous possibilities and overwhelming temptations, and knowing the splendid work which is being done here in Lima by this Association, we can only express hope that the time is not far distant when the Lima Association will fall in line with other cities of its class and maintain its own Secretary at a foreign post.'
